TRUMAN CALLS MARSHALL BACK

Johnson's Resignation Promptly Accepted

—Allied Gains Biggest In Nearly A Month—

U. N. Gets Set For Offensive

Gen. Walker Tells His Soldiers "Enemy Will Fold" When Allied Push Breaks Crust

SWEEP LED BY NEBRASKAN

TOKYO—(AP)—Allied troops got word today that they will kick off on the offensive soon against the big red Korean war machine they have battled to a standstill for a month.

Lt. Gen, Walton H. Walker, allied ground commander in Korea, said in a fighting talk to his front line troops:

"Soon we are going to give up the attitude of defense . . . As soon as we start forward and break the crust in front of us, the enemy will fold.

"We can feel a weakening of the enemy now . . . In some positions they auctually are pulling out."

Allies Building Up.

The U. S. Eighth army commander described the long weeks of delaying action as necessary "agony and suffering."

Only through such an ordeal, he said, could the allies build up power for an offensive.

Walker's talk came as allied troops flattened the red Korean bulge on the northeast front in a triple-threat power drive.

The United nations gains in a three-day offensive were the greatest in nearly a month. They sealed much of the gap torn last week by communists in their massive breakthrough south from Kigye near the east coast.

Nebraskan Leads End Run.

To the east, a mixed force of South Koreans and Americans rammed shut the southern gate of a mountain corridor, trapping 3,000 red Koreans.

Gar Davidson

This task force was led by 47-year-old Brig. Gen. Gar Davidson, former West Point football coach and right end. It was a brilliant end sweep west from the Pohang area by "Task Force Davidson that trapped the reds. Davidson's home is in Omaha, Neb.

Gen. Davidson's wife is the former Verone Gruenther.

The general went to Korea in August from the Sixth army at San Francisco where he was chief of staff to an ex-Omahan, Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer. Mrs. Davidson and their three sons returned to Omaha about 10 days ago for the duration.

Northern Pass Sealed.

"Task Force Davidson" was called to wipe out the threat to Pohang airfield. The reds had driven a wedge last week-end

Clemency Is Denied For Lifer

Maine Man Granted Pardon By Board

Clemency plea of Don Galloway, 32, Shelby, Ohio, serving a life sentence for murder at Odessa was denied by the state board of pardons and paroles, Wednesday. He has served 12 full years.

Galloway and Gary Ames, 14 years of age at the time, pleaded guilty to killing Edwin J. Billings on a freight train on which all were "bumming." Before the board, he denied that the pair planned to rob Billings and insisted the shot was accidental as they resisted an attack by the slain man.

After the killing the body was mutilated with a knife by the pair and thrown from the train. The sentence provided that both were to be kept in solitary confinement on the anniversary of the crime.

Family At Hearing.

Pleading for clemency were the mother and two brothers of Galloway who came from Ohio for the hearing. They explained that the family was uninformed of the killing until after the trial and that the three brothers were later unable to visit him because all were in the armed services.

Prison officials reported that although Galloway committed 16 major infractions of prison regulations for which he was punished after 1939, he has shown improvement for the past two years and is now a trusty.

Kelmet Paul Dougherty, North Platte, sentenced to two years on a forgery charge, was given a furlough and will be taken immediately by Nicholas Sherman, prison rehabilitation director, to Hot Springs, S. D., where he will enter a Veterans Administration hospital. He was wounded during the war and is suffering effects of an operation.

Full Pardon.

Wilford Des Jardines, 43, Lewiston, Me., was granted a full pardon for participating in breaking into a grocery store at Cody in 1931. At the time he was in the army stationed at Ft. Robinson.

Two girls, never identified, were involved and one of the girls was said to have thrown a hammer through the store window and took $25 in groceries.

Because of his serving a one-year term in the men's reformatory, the Maine man was denied the right to enlist in the army during World war II and he served in the merchant marine. He informed the board that he sought the full pardon in order to enlist for service in Korea.

Maine officials informed the board that he has become a respected citizen of his home town and has had no further law violations.

He was given a handful. Ten minutes later he returned with four more reds.

New Rocket Planes Tear Up 71 Tanks

. . . In 12-Day Period

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The air force said today that planes salvoing eight armor-piercing rockets at a time destroyed 71 North Korean tanks from Sept. 1 to Sept. 12.

Lt. Gen. George Stratemeyer, commander of the Far Eastern air forces, has made this report to Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff. The report said the confirmed score during the period was 71 tanks destroyed and 73 damaged.

Stratemeyer said these victories were scored by planes of the Fifth Air Force.

An air force spokesman said these results indicate that the air force's new tactic of firing all eight of a plane's rockets simultaneously is proving more effective than anything else tried to date.

6 Year Term Given Man In Robbery Here

Amandos Sausedas, 25, Chicago, was sentenced to six years in the state penitentiary Wednesday in District court.

Sausedas had pleaded guilty to the robbery of Oscar M. Powell on Sept. 8 of $60 in cash. Powell, who operates a combination sporting goods store and barber shop, was held up with one of his own guns.

According to the police, Sausedas entered the store under the pretext of wanting to buy a gun. He looked at a .38 colt automatic, asked for some ammunition, loaded the gun and pointed it at Powell.

After getting the money Sausedas tried to force Powell into a back room. He failed and then fled the store. He was picked up by police about two hours later in a tavern.

Sausedas was reared on a ranch north of Chicago. He came to Lincoln about Sept. 1 and went to work for a railroad.

After hearing the sentence pronounced by Judge Broady, Sausedas asked that he be given a break.

"I was drunk when I did it," he said, "and I'm sorry, but it's too late now."

He was informed by the judge that six years was a break in the face of a three to 50 year possible sentence.

Licensing All Nurses Is Sought

'Danger' Cited In Present State Law By ANA Official

"There is a large number of unlicensed nurses practicing in Nebraska, and many of them are dangerous." This statement was made Wednesday afternoon by Miss Leila Given, associate executive secretary of the American Nurses association.

Miss Given is in Lincoln at the request of the Nebraska State Nurses association to help in the group's planning of a legislative program. She addressed a gathering of nurses, legislators and lay persons in the legislative chamber at the state capitol.

Although denying she is in Nebraska to help "tighten up" existing nursing laws, Miss Given said she would like to see Nebraska adopt legislation that would provide for the licensing of all nurses, both practical and professional.

Nebraska has a licensing law at the present, but it provides only for registration of professional nurses, she said. This law is not compulsory, since it permits any nurse to practice in the state without a license as long as she does not assume the title, "registered nurse," she added.

One-Year Course.

Sufficient training for the practical nurse could be provided by a one-year course in an approved practical nurses' school, according to Miss Given.

"Any licensing law for nurses must have as its objective safe nursing care to the public, and it is in the interests of the people of Nebraska that such a law be passed," she declared. Four general principles underlying such legislation were set forth by the nursing head. They are:

1. Making public the purposes of the profession.
2. One licensing law should apply to all nursing groups.
3. Licensing of all who engage in nursing.
4. A competent administrative board to carry out the law.

Otto Ruff, state superintendent of public instruction, met with state nurses' association officers in the capitol Wednesday morning. They discussed the nurse registration act which functions under Ruff's department. Other leaders in the discussion were Miss Kathleen Ellis, chairman of the legislative committee of the Nebraska State Nurses association, Mrs. Catherine German, executive secretary and Miss Ada Bulin, president of the state group.

Panel Discussion.

A panel discussion urging more co-operation among members of the nursing team headed the fall meeting Tuesday night at St. Elizabeth hospital of District 3 of the Nebraska State Nurses association.

The present shortage of nurses makes team work among the registered nurses, practical nurses, ward aids and orderlies even more important, the panel decided.

Miss Marion Dunn, chief nurse at Veterans hospital, moderated the panel which consisted of Mrs. Carol Layman, nurse at the state hospital; Frank Walling, nurse at Veterans hospital; Miss Alice Jensen of the city-county health department; and Sister Josephine, ward supervisor at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Taylor's motorcycle collided with a car driven by Linnier Backstrom, 28, of 1802 H street, according to police reports. Backstrom was issued a ticket for failure to signal a turn.

People Not Deprived Of Liberties

Government Man Tells NFL Meeting

OMAHA—(AP)—The so-called "welfare state" is not depriving people of their liberties, a government labor leader said Wednesday.

What the "reactionaries" want, said Ralph Wright, is "the liberty to run our private enterprise system in any manner big business wishes and 'the public be damned.' "

Wright, assistant secretary of labor, addressed the Nebraska State Federation of Labor at its annual convention here.

These forces do not complain when "big business is the direct beneficiary," he said.

"The only thing that sends their blood pressure shooting up is when the government does something to help directly the ordinary citizens, especially workers x x x

"On the editorial pages of our newspapers we find complaints that business is being strangled by trade unions or government. But the financial pages of these same newspapers tell us that General Motors last year earned a greater profit than any corporation has ever earned in the history of the world."

The liberties which have been lost, Wright said, include "the liberty of big business to completely manipulate our economy; the liberty to keep a few million or so unemployed, to keep unions weak and workers servile; . . . the liberty to have a congress accountable only to a few."

General Will Be Chief Of Defense

. . . Soldier-Diplomat Heads Back To Pentagon

WASHINGTON—(AP)—George Catlett Marshall, soldier by profession and diplomat by experience, is headed back to the Pentagon to become secretary of defense.

President Truman turned to the 69-year-old, five-star general and former secretary of state to replace Louis Johnson.

Johnson, bowing to presidential will and the "enemies I have acquired during the 18 months I have served as a member of your cabinet," submitted his resignation yesterday. Mr. Truman accepted it with official regret—but with alacrity.

(International News Service said Johnson's resignation raised the question as to how long Secretary of the Navy Matthews will remain at his post. Some administration insiders expressed the view that Matthews will follow his former chief into retiment soon.)

Suddenly, in a single day, there were vacancies pending in two top civilian posts of the huge and complex national military establishment.

For what appeared to be entirely personal reasons, Stephen Early resigned as deputy secretary. He had remained well past the year's leave granted him by the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co., so that he could return to government work. None of the criticism that had welled up around Johnson had touched Early.

Johnson's resignation is effective next Tuesday; Early's September 30.

Johnson, in his resignation letter, said that Marshall was a "man of such stature that the very act of naming him to be secretary of defense will promote national and international unity."

The president heartily agreed, and most congressional leaders expressed accord, but there was a legal hurdle.

The law which created the unified defense department contains a clause prohibiting the appointment as defense secretary of any man who within 10 years has been on active duty as a commissioned officer of the armed forces.

Marshall left the army as chief of staff soon after the end of World war II in 1945. In fact, he still is on active duty under the provisions of the law creating the special five-star rank.

Congressional leaders thought they could get quick action on an amendment to the law to clear the way for Marshall's appointment.

Agrees To Accept.

Marshall, who has taken orders all his life, accepted Mr. Truman's request to come back, for the third time, to the pressures and urgencies and demands of

Marshall Gets Initial Approval

Senate Committee Okays Legislation; House Group Delays

WASHINGTON — (AP)— President Truman asked congress today to make an exception and let Gen. George C. Marshall serve as secretary of defense even though he is a military man. The senate armed services committee immediately approved the necessary legislation.

The vote was 10 to 2.

Congress has to act because the law says nobody who has been in active duty as an officer of the armed forces within the past 10 years can be secretary of defense.

The senate group acted even before the bill was introduced formally. The house armed services committee postponed action until Friday.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the house group said the matter is so important "that I want a full committee present if possible."

Tydings Confident.

The bill may be called up in the senate tomorrow or Friday, in a quick follow-up of the senate committee action.

"I don't look for any difficulty," Chairman Tydings (D-Md) told reporters.

Tydings said it was clear Mr. Truman wanted the exception to apply to no other person than Marshall, to no other circumstance and to no other time in the future.

Marshall was President Truman's choice to succeed Louis Johnson as secretary of defense. It was announced yesterday that Johnson is resigning, effective next Tuesday, and that Marshall has agreed to succeed him.

Tydings said that only two senate armed services committeemen —Senators Knowland (R-Calif) and Cain (R-Wash) — voted against making the exception allowing Marshall to serve. Senator Bridges (R-NH) was absent and not recorded.

Asks An Explanation.

Mr. Truman wrote Tydings and Vinson, asking for the necessary legislation and enclosing a draft.

"I am a firm believer," the chief executive said, "in the general principle that our defense establishment should be headed by a civilian. However, in view of the present critical circumstances and Gen. Marshall's unusual quilifications, I believe that the national interest will be served best by making an exception in this case."

There was some republican opposition, however, to an interruption in traditional civilian control over the military. A few republicans said, too, that the wrong cabinet officer had been dropped—that it should have been Secretary of State Acheson.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) told reporters he doesn't think the committee ought to be rushed in considering such a fundamental issue as altering the policy —reaching back to the days shortly after George Washington—of topping its military setup with a civilian.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said the fourthcoming Marshall appointment may start all over again "the same old fight" over civilian-vs-military control.

Amid the general chorus of approval of the choice of Marshall for the defense post, some republicans gave clear notice that Johnson's exit will be only a signal for a more intensive political attack on Acheson.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind) told a reporter "the wrong man is resigning—it ought to be Acheson.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) said in a statement that Marshall shouldn't be confirmed unless and until he convinces the senate "that he has learned the facts of life about communism since his disastrous mission to China." McCarthy added that he will listen to Gen. Douglas McArthur's advice rather than that of Secretary of State Acheson on the Far East.

Anderson Choice Is Praised

Chamber Directors Express Confidence

The board of directors of the Lincoln chamber of commerce, at its regular meeting Wednesday, officially expressed appreciation to Victor E. Anderson for accepting the post as mayor.

According to T. A. Sick, president of the chamber, board members expressed confidence in Anderson's ability to give the city a "business-like" administration.

Anderson recently served a three-year term as a chamber of commerce director and, at one time, served as vice president of the organization.

Members of the city council agreed Monday that Anderson's aim toward co-operation, streamlined council meetings and hands-off administrative policies is sound.

ACHESON . . .

Supporters of Secretary of State Acheson now feel he will remain in the Truman cabinet . . . Resignation of Defense Secretary Johnson strengthens that belief . . .

Termination of the Acheson-Johnson feud should spur the former's drive to speed up a strong defense force in western Europe.

Burwell's Large Turnout Likely Record For Sowers

. . . North Loup Stop Made During 'Popcorn Days'

ARCADIA, Neb.—Warmer weather and larger crowds greeted Lincoln's Sowers club Wednesday as they continued their swing through north central Nebraska, visiting four cities in this area before stopping for lunch at the Veterans club at Ord at noon.

What is believed to be the largest crowd in the history of Sowers' trips turned out at Burwell, with 425 school children, a band with a whole corp of majorettes and numerous townspeople greeted the Lincoln group.

Impromptu Parade.

An impromptu parade was formed with the band and seven majorettes leading the Lincoln group in a quick march around the square in the middle of the city.

Majorettes with the band, directed by Leonard Blinde, were Phyllis Johnson, Jean Thurber, Bonnie Leach, Ilow Clow, Shirley Witt, and Zoe and Zae Anderson.

An official welcome was tendered the Sowers by James Calloway.

From Burwell the group proceeded to Taylor where school was dismissed for the occasion and 200 citizens were out to give greeting. D. W. Churchill, superintendent of schools there, gave the official welcome.

Sargent Band On Hand.

Next stop was Sargent where a 32-piece band directed by Thomas Sibbett welcomed the group, along with 150 people and three majorettes. Beverly Beranek, Sharon Lacy and Irma Jean Lorenzen.

Here at Arcadia approximately 150 children plus other citizens of the town were on hand for the greeting.

After leaving Ord the Lincolnites stopped at North Loup for a quick check of that city's annual "Popcorn Days," then made visits at Scotia, Greeley, Wolbach and Fullerton.

Wednesday night the Sowers will have dinner at the high school auditorium in Osceola before returning to Lincoln at the completion of the two day trip.

(Another Sower's trip story on Page 22.)

Theft Reported — Several auto parts, tires and anti-freeze, and a .38 revolver were stolen from the O. E. Slade garage on West O street Tuesday night, the county sheriff's office said. Value of the items stolen was $160. The persons gained entry into the garage by breaking the lock from the front door.

New Charges Facing Young Norfolk Man

In Slaying Of Teen-Age Girl

COLUMBUS, Neb. — (AP) — New charges have been filed against Ronald Dean Sundahl, 20-year-old Norfolk father, accused of the slaying of a teen-age carhop.

Sundahl was originally charged with first degree murder in the death of Bonnie Lou Merrill, 16, Silver Creek, Neb. He pleaded innocent.

Rape Clause Added.

The new charge, filed by County Attorney Arthur Kummer, contains two counts alleging that Sundahl killed the girl "unlawfully, feloniously, purposely and of his deliberate and premeditated malice," and "in the perpetration of or an attempt to perpertrate a rape."

Arraigned in County court before Judge C. L. Stone, Sundahl again pleaded innocent.

The original charge, which did not contain the rape clause will now be vacated.

After Sundahl pleaded innocent and waived preliminary hearing, Judge Stone bound him over to District court.

Columbus police said Sundahl gave them a statement saying he had choked and then beaten the girl with a hatchet when she resisted his advances near Lake Babcock, north of Columbus.

five miles deep and three miles wide into the allied line between Angang and Pohang.

"We watched the penetration and it gradually grew worse," said Davidson.

The handsome star led a flying column of South Koreans and Americans west across "Billy-goat" country—or worse.

The reds were massed in a corridor running between high peaks. South Koreans already had sealed the northern pass.

Davidson's composite force swept over three ridges at the southern gate.

"I don't know how many we killed," said Davidson. "But we did get a large quantity of personal weapons — machineguns, rifles and burp guns."

Along the 125-mile allied defense perimeter, this was the picture:

Pohang-Yongchon sector—"Task Force Davidson" closed a three-mile gap between Angang and Pohang. From the west the South Korean Eighth division thrust three-fourths of the way to red-held Angang. It punched 12 miles in three days. A South Korean regiment drove northwest from Kyongju to close the last gap. Reds dug in on Hill 343 southwest of Angang were resisting fiercely.

Taegu sector—U. S. First cavalry division elements attacked a strongly-fortified hill eight miles north of Taegu. This was in the immediate area where they stormed and won a hill Tuesday at heavy cost. Other units seized high ground north of the Waegwan area, a few miles west. The reds pushed foot troopers off an important peak nine miles northwest of Taegu.

Changnyong sector—All quiet.

Nasan sector—American big guns wiped out 200 red Koreans as they stormed a dominant peak four miles south of the NamNaktong river junction. U. S. 25th division engineers battled 300 reds who had infiltrated the line. Air support was called to help wipe out the pocket.

Marshall Defense Chief

Washington official life. From his Leesburg, Va., home the general told reporters the president asked if he would accept the defense post and that "I told him I would."

Marshall, with more than the 30 required years of military service behind him, took off his uniform in 1945, only to have Mr. Truman ask him shortly to go to China to see what might be done there by this country. He made that arduous and discouraging mission, came back, settled down to rest again—and was called back in January, 1947, to be secretary of state. He left the state department post two years later and for a time was ill, recovering only after hospitalization and months of convalescence. Now he has been summoned again.

It has been many years since a professional soldier has served as a civilian chief of the armed forces.

Realistic Approach.

How will Marshall attain a balance between military and civilian thinking?

By training and by more than 30 years of practice, he is a soldier with the precise, realistic approach of a soldier to a problem. But he also has been termed a "citizen-soldier" by those who have studied his writings on the need for emphasis of the civilian over the military in the nation's defense organization.

Moreover, as secretary of state his perspective of government was across the Potomac river from the Pentagon's "high brass" and military style of thinking.

The speculation about an appointee to fill the vacancy caused by Early's resignation placed high up the name of Robert A. Lovett. He was undersecretary of state from 1947 to 1949. And he was assistant secretary of war for air during World war II.

Many Johnson Critics.

There was something sardonic about the prospect of these two men, with state department histories, coming back to head the defense department.

Among the charges against Johnson—perhaps the one that eventually impelled Mr. Truman to remove him—was that he had invaded the foreign policy making field of Secretary of State Dean Acheson, that he and others of the military establishment had sought to impose military thinking on the United States' international diplomacy. Such complaints weren't new. They had been leveled at the military before. The first defense secretary, the late James Forrestal, had been accused of somewhat the same thing.

But Johnson's critics in and out of congress didn't confine their accusations to the foreign policy matter alone.

When the Korean war flashed up and American troops were rolled back by onrushing red hordes, the economy cutbacks in military spending which Johnson had ordered—and of which he had boasted—became the target of critics. They said his economies had weakened national defense.

Some of the criticism was more personal. Rep. Tauriello (D-NY) demanded that Johnson resign, accused him in one letter of dealing in gossip about Forrestal which led to the latter's resignation. Forrestal committed suicide a few weeks after leaving the defense secretaryship.

Parents Protest Nude Photographing Co-Eds

. . . Pictures Made For Medical School Research

SEATTLE—(AP)—Full length nude photographs of girls who are entering the University of Washington caused a campus furore today.

The photographs were made for a research laboratory of the Columbia university (New York City) medical school.

Parents raised a storm of protest and university authorities said the picture-taking would be stopped immediately.

The young women, mostly freshmen or transfer students, complained they had not been told why they were being posed.

The pictures were taken during routine physical examinations. Both front and profile views were made.

Woman Photographer.

The women were photographed one at a time in a room where they were alone with the woman photographer, and the woman who was posing them.

A university spokesman said negatives exposed Monday and Tuesday would be impounded until a full investigation is made.

Miss Barbara Honeyman, executive director of Constitution laboratory, the Columbia university medical school research project, said the photos were being taken for Dr. William Sheldon, a widely known scientist writing a series of books on the relation of human structure to human behavior.

Miss Honeyman blamed the outburst on an unexpectedly heavy registration. She said it was impossible to keep the girls standing in line while they were to be told what it was all about.

Heads Blacked Out.

"We had so many girls standing in line we were not able to answer all their questions," Miss Honeyman said. "However, I sympathize with them completely. And I can understand why parents are disturbed. Our concern was to get them through as quickly as possible."

She said she herself develops all the film in New York and that the heads are blacked out on the negatives, which always are kept under lock and key. "Only a serial number, the age and weight appear on the negative," she said.

Dr. Leland E. Powers, director of the health services center where the pictures were made, said he had qualms about the project from the outset.

"They promised me they would tell the women the photo was not required," he said. "It was to be entirely voluntary."

In New York, Columbia university referred to the project as the "somatotype" (type of body build) project which has been carried on for 15 years at several universities, including Chicago, Iowa, Harvard and Columbia. The university said Dr. Sheldon a physician and a psychologist, had published a number of medical books embracing his findings.

Anti-Red Measure Passed

Internment Proposal Approved By Senate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A bill aimed at stifling communist activities all along the home front headed today for a senate-house conference as the first step toward a probable veto by President Truman.

It received an overwhelming 70 to 7 vote of approval in the senate late yesterday after a day of hectic and often confused maneuvering that eventually welded two opposing measures into one.

Nebraska's republican Sens. Butler and Wherry voted with the majority for passage.

Briefly the bill provides for:

1. The internment of dangerous reds in time of war, invasion or insurrection.

2. Registration of communist and communist front organizations.

3. Barring reds from government jobs and obtaining passports.

4. New legal curbs on sabotage and espionage.

5. New weapons to be used to exclude and report aliens considered to be subversive.

6. Outlawing conspiracies to set up a "totalitarian dictatorship" in the United States.

Senator Kilgore (D-WVa) had introduced the internment plan as a substitute for the sweeping catch-all bill sponsored by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of the senate judiciary committee. As a substitute it was defeated, 50 to 23.

Meanwhile senate Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois grabbed the ball. When the voting was finally over, he had succeeded in nailing a somewhat modified version of the Kilgore plan onto the McCarran bill.

It was done by voice after the senate had (a) batted down, 45 to 29, Lucas' move to substitute the plan for the communist registration section, and (b) rejected, 37 to 35, his first attempt to write the plan into the bill. This vote was later reconsidered and acceptance followed.

There were only two other major changes in the McCarran bill. One stripped from it a provision to set up a semi-independent office of passports and visas. This amendment, by Senator Connally (D-Tex), was adopted 39 to 33.

The other, an amendment by Senator Ellender (D-La), added a provision making it illegal to picket federal courts. It was adopted on a voice vote.

A top administration lieutenant, who asked that he not be identified by name, told reporters the White House already has the measure under study, but he did not know when a decision would be made.

He said, however, that the president would make a forthright stand one way or another.

Mr. Truman told his news conference last week that he would not sign the McCarran bill in the form it was in at that time.

He had asked congress only for new weapons to use against saboteurs and spies. He said he thought provisions of the McCarran bill would imperil the rights of loyal American citizens.

As passed, the bill contains provisions the president wants and some he doesn't want. Indications are that the house, which last month passed its own communist-registration bill by an overwhelming vote, will accept most of both.

The seven senators voting against the bill were all democrats: Graham (N. C.), Green (R. I.), Kefauver (Tenn.), Leahy (R. I.), Lehman (N. Y.), Murray (Mont.), and Taylor (Ida.).

Jewish Holy Days Are Explained At Hiram Club Meeting

Rabbi Samuel H. Baron of the South Street temple Wednesday spoke on the Jewish holy days at a luncheon meeting of the Hiram club at the Y.W.C.A.

There are two holy days in the Jewish religious calendar—the religious New Year and the Day of Atonement, he said.

The New Year was observed this year on Sept. 12. The Day of Atonement is the most sacred day and comes as culmination of the 10 days of repentance beginning with New Year's day.

Rabbi Baron also explained the three great Bilical festivals which are celebrated by people of Jewish faith. They are the Feast of Tabernacles, celebrated for a week or more beginning two weeks after the New Year's day; the Feast of Passover, celebrated for a week in the early spring; and the Feast of Pentecost, which comes in the late spring.

Free Beer Stays On Menu Of All Front Line Soldiers

TOKYO—(AP)—Frontline troops in Korea who like beer will continue to get it—for free.

This is on the word of a high army official who declined use of his name lest he get all foamed up in controversy.

An army order yesterday removing the one-can-a-day ration in Korea raised a howl of protest heard as far as Washington.

The source said today this has resulted in a compromise.

Combat troops had been getting a small can of beer as a free ration. Some of the boys who don't like beer wrote home about it. There were protests. Beer was stricken from the ration.

"What was not made clear back home was that the beer was in addition to normal rations and did not take the place of other items," said the source.

"Bottles of soft drinks also have been given to frontline men and many chose cokes over beer. And there was always water, coffee and cocoa."

Under the new arrangements, no more beer will be furnished troops from appropriated funds—taxpayers' money allocated by congress.

But the army has non-appropriated funds. This is revenue from small charges for various items in post exchanges and theater admissions.

The source said beer will not be free to rear echelon soldiers. They can buy it in rear areas. But the men at the front, where it's 24-hour duty and no time for shopping, will get a can almost every day, if they want it.

Soft drinks will continue to be available.

Two Break-Ins Said Admitted By Youth, Age 14

A 14-year-old boy, allegedly caught red-handed by one of his burglary victims Tuesday night, has admitted two other breakins, a police offense report said.

Gerald H. Kushner, owner of Kushner's Grocery at 821 South Twenty-seventh told officers that he returned to do some late work at his store about 9:35 p. m. He found and detained, a youth who, Kushner said, was going through the cash register.

Investigating officers reported that the boy was found with $14 on his person.

At police headquarters the boy allegedly admitted burglarizing the Lincoln Hat Works, 930 South Twenty-seventh, at 9 p. m. the same night, and the Whizzer Bike Co., 2707 Randolph, on Sept. 3.

He was to be turned over to juvenile authorities.

One Sweet Victory

At 70 years of age, and still the fiery, sturdy warrior typifying New England liberalism, Senator Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire emerged the apparent winner of the toughest battle in his career.

They had ganged upon Tobey. He wasn't an acceptable party hack to powerful elements in the republican ranks. At all times he displayed a spirit of independence which refused to bow to the Tafts and the Wherrys in the senate, or to take his orders from the conservative bloc which dominates the senate republicans.

But Senator Tobey had a place in the hearts of his own people. It was demonstrated in the Tuesday primary that the awakened New Englanders, tossing aside the orthodox, traditional conservatism that dominated that region for years, preferred Tobey to a 34-year-old World war II veteran, who served as former secretary to Senator Styles Bridges. Tobey's opponent campaigned squarely on the issues that Tobey was a "Truman republican," and "too liberal." The battle was close, Tobey's enemies were confident that they had his scalp. When the votes were counted, only a margin of slightly more than a thousand was in Tobey's favor.

If that re-count confirms the unofficial returns, a brave republican liberal will give that wing of the party increased stature nationally in the undercover struggle now in progress in the party itself.

Concentration Camp

The news dispatches said the communist legislation now being whipped into final shape by a house-senate conference committee faced a possible veto by President Truman.

We believe the country overwhelmingly desires strengthening of the laws to curb any communist activity touching upon sabotage, espionage, or any other activity involving a conspiracy or a threat to the security of this country. There are some provisions in the law now being put in final form which will arouse conflicting opinion. One was a provision to intern communists in concentration camps. Off hand, that would appear to give the Russian propagandists a rare tidbit in their cold war against the democracies. As finally drafted, the bill provides for the interment of dangerous reds in time of war, invasion or insurrection, something which under existing laws can be done now, although there is no harm in restating it specifically.

It is probable that a better bill could have been written in an off election year. To some degree, the undercurrents of the impending congressional election may echo in the measure that has been drawn. There are a lot of ideas which run head-on into each other on how best to preserve freedom.

But in the case of recognized activities inimical to the security of the country, the American mind is one, united.

Fashioned For The Times

The American people could breathe a sigh of relief Wednesday.

Out of the president's cabinet, and the vital post of secretary of defense, was a man who in recent weeks has lost a lot of face with millions he serves; in his shoes was George C. Marshall, former secretary of state, former American chief of staff, a quiet, capable leader.

General George C. Marshall

Louis Johnson has resigned. We doubt that a great many Americans will shed any tears over his going, notwithstanding Senator Wherry's silly comment, "that the wrong man resigned," (meaning Secretary of State Dean Acheson, for whom Wherry has been gunning). Johnson had seemed to have precipitated a cabinet clash at a time when one of the nation's great needs was unity. Johnson had given a great many Americans the impression that he was a blustering, quarrelsome, ambitious man, intent upon running foreign policy as well as his own show, admittedly a big enough job to keep any man busy.

There was a legal obstacle in the path of the appointment of General Marshall to the post of secretary of defense. The law creating a unified defense department does contain a clause prohibiting the appointment as defense secretary of any man who within 10 years has been on active duty as a commissioned officer of the armed forces. General Marshall left the army as chief of staff shortly after the close of World war II in 1945, although technically as a five-star general he still is in the active service. How serious or inconsequential that limitation may prove to be will depend entirely upon congressional reaction.

General Marshall does have the confidence of the people of this country as a man of peace despite a lifetime in the military. Every utterance, every action, every decision that has come from him in a distinguished career reflects the spirit of a distinguished American, dedicated heart and soul to peace. Probably the strongest proof of his sound judgment was that he recognized the futility of Chiang's government in China.

It has been one of the strange developments of our times that the real capabilities of General Marshall have not been recognized. He was chief of staff in the greatest struggle in which this country has been engaged. It was this quiet, retiring, unassuming man who was back of the plan, back of the supervision, back of the development of the greatest armed might America ever mobilized. At all times he has revealed an uncanny capacity to pick his men for the job to be done, a tested judge of men and human nature. Naturally the disposition has been to center attention upon the generals in the field, leading the troops into action, and two great American heroes—General Eisenhower and General Douglas MacArthur—got the headlines and the nation's homage, the latter deserved, while the silent man in the Pentagon all the time stood back of them, planning, administering, and contributing to their success in the field.

Marshall's acceptance of the post involves an outstanding sacrifice on his part after retirement for a well-earned rest. But it will bring to the defense department a man who talks less and does more, a man who knows the virtue of teamwork and possesses the qualities to contribute to it.

The American people can and will rest easy in their minds in the knowledge that the step upon which they have embarked in recent months of an increased armament program will be in the hands of one who will deliver 100 per cent.

There is an added virtue to Marshall's selection. It will not produce any cheers from Russia. It will not please some of the more vocal "political strategists," but it will restore to most Americans a sense of competence. General Marshall is a realist of broad world experience; he knows the score both here at home and abroad.

AND WHAT IS CONSERVATION?

One of the Omaha World-Herald's Washington bureau staff members, Darwin Olofson writes that "there are officials willing to bet that the Missouri Basin agriculture program won't make the grade." If true that is not good news.

★

Correspondent Olofson gets down to cases with this: "Some of those making the prediction work under Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, a strong supporter of the broad scale, stepped-up farm development. They maintain the program will founder, probably in the senate, because: (a) too much money is involved; (b) western states will buck it. They expect initial opposition to come from states in the lower and the upper basins of the Colorado, Columbia, and Arkansas-White-Red rivers. That takes in Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona, New Mexico and Arkansas . . . officials say these states are not interested in the minor flood control projects included in the proposed Missouri basin program. . . . They say the states will base their argument against the program on economy. This would be calculated to win the support of more or less neutral states."

★

That does not make sense. If anybody should be interested in an agricultural program linked into plans for flood control it is these states which are a part or nearby to the great North American plains, and the Pacific coastal area.

★

Mounting tax burdens, however, suggest some of the "big" states, thickly populated, represented by huge blocks of votes in the house, where the money bills must originate, will develop hostility to an agriculture flood control program, costing an estimated 8 billions. Such states as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Michigan, Ohio and Illinois, states subject to floods but thus far largely indifferent to a comprehensive program of the conservation of natural resources, including soil, already are in a rebellious frame of mind against what they insist has been a policy of undue discrimination towards agriculture. They are demanding cheaper food, a reduction in farm subsidies, a sliding scale of benefits under the farm program. The midwest, including the states interested in an agriculture flood program, do not like Secretary Brannan's proposal for dealing with farm surpluses; and these thickly populated industrial states do not look with favor upon the present program of parity payments.

★

The thing will come to a boil before too many months, with heavier individual income taxes due to be imposed for the last quarter of the current year, still a second tax bite in the offing after the first of the year, increased corporate taxes upon business and industry, an excess profits tax. All of this is a part of the long range defense program under which the United States will spend 30 billions in the current fiscal year, possibly 35 billions for the next fiscal year. Until the Korean war broke out, the expected expenditures for all purposes of government in Washington had been pegged at 38½ billions.

★

It is no secret that various divisions in the Department of Agriculture do not see exactly eye to eye with each other on the Missouri Basin agriculture program drawn in connection with the flood control plan. There is a lot of rivalry right under Secretary Brannan's nose, which may be responsible for Olofson's story. It was largely a question of "who was who, and who would be in charge?"

★

The chief weakness of the Young plan at all times has been the magnitude of the expenditures called for. Long before the Korean conflict broke out, months ahead of the stepped-up defense program, it appeared that in drafting the Young plan its authors became altogether too ambitious. Actually if it had been projected bit by bit over a long period of years it would have been far less chilling. We may find ourselves in the position, and we hope not, that it is billions for defense but not a penny for a comprehensive program of flood control.

★

Closer here to home the difficulties to be anticipated in interesting congress in what the Herald's staff man describes as "minor flood control projects" require no elaboration. After six months of stepped-up tax burdens, falling upon every individual, and every family, it is going to be hard, if not impossible, to pry any money from the federal treasury for flood control developments of a local character. Perhaps wisdom suggests that should be taken into consideration in all present discussions. Preliminary studies are only a formality, actually mean nothing in getting a job done until backed by good cold dollars either put up locally, by individual states, or by Uncle Sam. After all the talk subsides, it is money and money alone that will get the job done.

WASHINGTON — Here are the details of the secret deal which Dewey forces made with Lt. Gov. Joe Hanley to get him to withdraw from the New York race for governor.

In case Hanley loses in his race for the senate against Herbert Lehman, a new job will be created for him on the thruway commission—the super-highway now under construction across New York state. This job will pay Hanley $25,000 annually.

Drew Pearson

In addition, Hanley has been promised $15,000 income from an oil company, making a total of $40,000, or about the income he would have received had he been elected governor.

Finally, friends in the Dewey camp have promised to repay the $30,000 which Kingsland Macy, Frank Gannett and Norman Gould had put up to pay off Hanley's debts. The lieutenant governor had been in difficult financial circumstances and the Macy-Gannett-Gould backers had raised about $30,000 to bail him out.

In the delegates' lounge at Lake Success, a newsman said to security council president, Sir Gladwyn Jebb, "How does it feel to be a TV idol?"

"It's really quite frightening," replied Jebb, with his Oxford accent. "People come up to me on the street and shake my hand. No member of the British foreign office is supposed to be known, not to mention being popular."

"I'm afraid you can't escape it," insisted the newsman. "People are fascinated by you—second only to Milton Berle."

"Berle?" said Sir Gladwyn. "Who's he? The only Berle I know is Adolf Berle, and people aren't fascinated by him."

It is easy to understand why the republican policy committee took the unusual step of rushing out with a disavowal of Senator Schoeppel, the bumbling senator from Kansas, after he tried to smear the red brush on Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman.

Chapman's forthright and convincing reply boomeranged against the republicans badly. Bob Allen expressed it best of all, after Chapman had wound up his testimony.

"I have no money to leave my family," the cabinet officer said. "Only my good name and reputation. By the grace of God I'm going to protect it."

"I challenge him . . . I dare you to remove your cloak of immunity and sit in this chair and read your statement."

Senator Schoeppel remained silent.

"Do you care to answer?" Chairman O'Mahoney of Wyoming asked.

Senator Schoeppel did not.

"Don't you care to question the witness?" invited O'Mahoney.

Schoeppel mumbled something about the fact that his assistant, Frank Bow, who actually prepared his speech, was out of town.

"Whereupon Bob Allen, sitting at the press stable, announced in a loud stage whisper:

"Another cockroach down the drain."

There being no drain present, Senator Schoeppel looked as if he wanted to slide under the table.

The heat on Secretary of Defense Louey Johnson has been so intense that he has drafted his top assistants into a special task force to tell the public what a great man Secretary of Defense Louey Johnson is.

After the Korean outbreak Johnson banned everyone in the defense department from making speeches. Therefore, he had some difficulty getting his personal publicity campaign rolling. Finally, however, he announced that the public was entitled to be informed about Korea. Whereupon Johnson's assistant secretary in charge of "political matters," Paul Griffith, rushed out and delivered the first speech. The speech turned out to be chiefly a defense of Johnson.

Sample from the speech: "I am proud to be associated at this critical time with our great secretary of defense . . . I want you to know

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

For the benefit of the hordes who love dogs and the handfuls who love humans, I reproduce a letter which I received recently from a man who lives in a small town in New Jersey:

Dear Billy,

On Wednesday, Aug. 30, the following item appeared in a New York newspaper:

"Sympathetic neighbors began a door-to-door search in a 25-block area of Yorkville yesterday in a last desperate attempt to save 8-year-old Joseph Young from the perilous necessity of anti-rabies shots. That Friday morning the boy was bitten on the left leg by a small black-and-white fox terrier, and unless the dog is located and found to be free from rabies, Joseph will have to submit to a series of 14 injections. He suffers from a rheumatic heart condition, and the family doctor has warned that the reaction from the shots might be fatal."

Billy Rose

Since this item appeared, several similar cases have been reported in the local press, and for the benefit of dog owners who are reluctant to turn over their pets to the authorities under such circumstances, I'd like to pass along the following true story.

A couple of years ago a city family named Myers bought a house in our neck of the woods opposite the Widow McMinn's farm. The Myers had a 9-year-old son named Billy, and Billy had a Scotch terrier named Whiskey—and three weeks after the family moved in the widow hailed them into court on the charge of harboring a vicious animal.

It seems that Whiskey, unused to life in the country, had reduced one of the lady's white Leghorns to a disorderly pile of feathers, and under our local statutes a "killer" dog must be sent to the pound and asphyxiated.

• • •

Judge Allan Gedney, however, found two mitigating circumstances—(a) the chicken had committed the initial misdemeanor by trespassing on the Myers' property, and (b) this was Whiskey's first offense, and a city-trained dog could hardly be expected to know all the rural laws.

"Sentence suspended," the judge pronounced, "but from now on the dog is to be muzzled and kept on a leash. And there will be no clemency in case of a second offense."

A week later, Billy was walking Whiskey through town—leashed but unmuzzled—when he bumped into Mrs. McMinn coming out of the supermarket, her arms full of bundles. Scared stiff that she would notice the uncaged nose of his pet, the kid turned and raced down the street—and ran smack-dab into even worse trouble.

The trouble was a local boy named Randy, several inches taller than Billy, who decided he didn't like the "fancy-pants" from the city and started to rough him up. That is, he did until Whiskey sized up the situation and nipped the bully neatly in the leg.

Billy took one look at the blood oozing from his adversary's stocking, and another at the Widow McMinn who was still standing in front of the store. Then he grabbed the leash, dashed into the nearest alley and didn't stop running until he was home.

That evening our local paper carried the story about Randy being bitten by an unidentified dog, and at the dinner table Billy's father read it aloud. When he came to the part about the 14 painful injections which Randy would have to take if the dog wasn't located, Billy asked to be excused and went to his room.

Later that evening, knowing full well that it meant the death of his pet, he confessed to his parents that the culprit they were looking for was Whiskey.

• • •

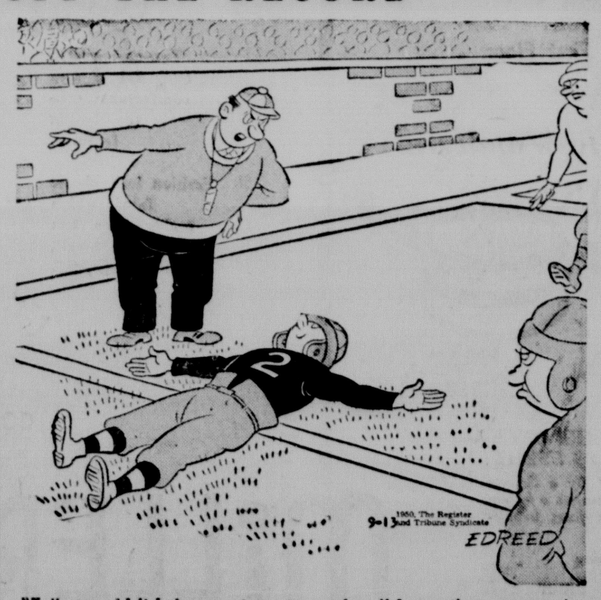

Next morning the terrier was found free of rabies, but the parents of Randy filed a complaint against the Myers family. At the trial the same judge presided, and to make matters worse the Widow McMinn stepped forward and asked permission to address the court.

"Your Honor," she began, "it so happens that I witnessed the Forgive me, please, for skipping my column Monday, but you see we wanted you to have a picture of the dedication of the Blue Star Memorial highway at Plattsmouth which we attended Sunday. This dedication was really significant in the lives of every Federated Garden club member of Nebraska. It is a national tribute to our nation's armed forces who served in World war II.

The idea originated in New Jersey early in 1946 and spread rapidly to every garden club in national council. The state officers in Nebraska Federated Garden club, however, were not astute enough to see it through our legislature that year or the next. But when Mrs. Rex Leberman, Scottsbluff, was elected president of our state federation in October, 1948, she immediately appointed Mrs. Ed Berlett of Plattsmouth chairman of the Blue Star Memorial highway and things began to shape up rapidly. In March, 1949, our legislature passed the bill designating Highway 75 through Nebraska as "The Blue Star Memorial highway."

It is also significant that the first marker to be erected in Nebraska should be in beautiful Webster park at Plattsmouth. The Plattsmouth Garden club, with Mrs. Louis Hansen as president, is one of the most progressive clubs in the state. I shall not attempt to count the hours Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Berlett spent on this worthy project for there were many of them and all for love of Nebraska, her sons and her future freedom. This is just the beginning of our Blue Star Highway markers through the state we hope.

Among those in the picture from left to right are Mrs. William Parkinson, Omaha; Mrs. M. M. Muncie, Gold Star Mother; Mrs. Charles Janecek, American Legion auxiliary president, Plattsmouth; Mrs. Edgar Irving, vice president, Federated Garden club of Nebraska, Omaha; Mrs. Sophia Wolever, V.F.W. auxiliary president, Plattsmouth; Mrs. J. E. Dvorak, Sioux City, Ia., national chairman of Blue Star Memorial highway, and Mrs. Lewis Hansen, president, Plattsmouth Garden club. To the right of the markers beginning at left is Mrs. Ed Berlett, Nebraska chairman, Blue Star Highway, and the Navy Mothers auxiliary president of Plattsmouth; Mr. Donald Warga, commander of American Legion Hugh Kerns post No. 56 and master of ceremonies at the dedication; Mrs. Phillip Lepert, Gold Star Mother, Plattsmouth; your columnist of The Lincoln Star.

CALLS FOR MORE SPEED

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I believe our police force needs a little more speed to their work. A few weeks ago my bicycle was stolen. I reported it and they took all the information that was necessary. Now after a period of time I have given up hope of finding it. That wasn't so bad, but when I found a stolen bicycle in the alley in our neighborhood and reported it to the police, what do they do? They wait twenty-four hours before they come down to get it. At least the owner of the bicycle could have gotten it back had the police been a little more speedy. But naturally the bicycle was gone. The thief had returned for it during the night. What do you say we get a little more speed on it Lincoln city police force.

Editor's Note: Upon inquiry Chief of Police Joe Carroll said the practice was to use a pick-up truck when stolen property was reported, and that while a short delay might develop there should be no extended lapse of time between report of a theft and pick-up of the article or articles which had been taken.

IN SIXTY DAYS

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Within 60 days will occur our state and national elections. Of more importance than usual, this is an excellent opportunity for the voters to register their opinion of democratic party leadership. We are engaged in a war for which the administration in Washington is responsible. Their appeasement of Russia, their coddling of communists, and their Far Eastern policy in general, have all contributed to bring on the Korean war. To vote democratic would be to approve these colossal blunders. Thousands of American boys will die and billions will be spent in tribute to administration incompetence. We in Nebraska can voice our criticism of the present administration by defeating its proponents under an avalanche of votes.

C. V. KELLER.

Editor's Note: Mr. Keller's analysis simplies the issue. What is the alternative to the policies he is criticizing? Is it war with Russia, or total war between the free peoples and the millions under Russian domination? Possibly the issue is a little more complicated than yes or no.

NOT UPON PARTIES' SHOULDERS

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In seeking to find a cause for the two world wars and, as sure as the world the coming of the third, we need not blame either one of the two great political parties. I blame the nominal Christians who say "Lord, Lord," but do not do the will of God as it is revealed in the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. We blame the Germans for starting the two world wars and if they were real Christians, as the first century Christians were, those two wars would not have been fought. True, there were nominal Christians even in the first century; but they were in the minority, while today they are in the majority.

WASHINGTON CALLING

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—This is Dean Acheson's hour. In a sense it is his vindication. The secretary of state comes to this meeting of the Big Three foreign ministers with his own policy clearly defined and unequivocally endorsed by President Truman.

Marquis Childs

He can take justifiable pride in having come out on this plateau. The way up the slope has been difficult and thorny. Secretary of State Acheson has had to contest much of the way with Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson.

Now Johnson has been rebuked. But his opposition to Acheson's policies will not produce the uncertainties and hesitation that have been so harmful in the recent past. (Mr. Johnson resigned Tuesday.)

• • •

As Secretary Acheson sits down with Foreign Ministers Robert Schuman of France and Ernest Bevin of Great Britain, he will have a definite and firm set of proposals to put before them. These proposals will embody the immediate beginning of a greatly expanded defense system for western Europe on a basis of mutual contribution.

This is in accord with Acheson's long-time conviction that western Europe is the key to the peace and security of the world. It is oversimplifying the dispute to say that Acheson and Johnson were divided on the line of commitments for Asia versus commitments for Europe. But that is roughly true.

• • •

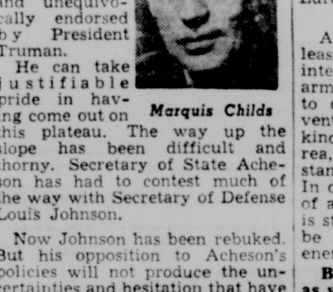

As he explained, in part at least, in the course of a television interview, his belief is that a rearmed western Europe will serve to deter the Russians from adventures on the periphery; the kind of adventures that, as in Korea, can waste away the substance and the will of the west. In other words, using the analogy of a living organism, if the heart is strong then the extremities will be greatly strengthened and the enemy will hesitate to attack.

But with the heart of Europe as weak as it is, there has seemed to be no hope anywhere. The possibility always exists that this center, this core, might be overwhelmed at any time. The whole system was built on the most shaky foundation or on no foundation at all.

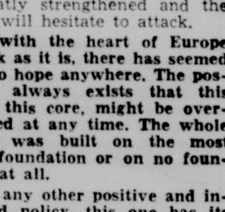

Like any other positive and integrated policy, this one has its grave risks in the kind of world in which we live. There is, above

Local Employes Hear Talk By Continental Oil Head

. . . Anniversary Marks Start Of New Lab

Seventy-eight employes of the Lincoln division office of the Continental Oil company Tuesday gathered before loudspeakers at the division office to hear by way of direct coast-to-coast telephone hookup the company president, L. F. McCollum, speaking from Ponca City, Oklahoma.

The occasion was the opening of the observance of the 27th anniversary of the company and preceded the ground-breaking ceremony for the firm's new $2,500,000 research laboratory at Ponca City.

Announces Scholarship Plan.

McCullom directed a personal salutation to the 8,000 employes gathered before four speakers in 36 cities, and announced the Continental Oil scholarship plan which starts in 1951. Ten college scholarships of $500 each will be awarded each year to sons and daughters of employes.

"Today Continental celebrates its 75th anniversary by breaking ground for a new research center," McCullom said. "This building, and the investment it will represent in equipment and the time of men of special skills, is a symbol of our faith in the future of our company, and industry and our country."

M.I.T. Head Is Speaker.

Principal speaker at the groundbreaking ceremony was Dr. James Rhyne Killian, jr., president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., who recommended Continental in its "search for new uses for petroleum, new products to meet changing needs and the discovery of new materials and new methods."

He termed the oil producing and refining industry in the United States as "one of the finest and one of the most advanced examples we have of research working in collaboration with management and labor to produce new wealth and to add to the nation's security."

all, the risk that Soviet Russia may decide to move before western Europe can be strengthened.

• • •

In the discussions in the state department leading up to the final decision on the American position, Acheson took full account of the risks. He pointed out that in giving the "go" sign to the North Koreans, the Russians had already taken the risk of general war. Being realists, the masters of the Kremlin must have figured just how serious that risk was before they took the decision to unleash the conflict in Korea.

If the Kremlin is willing to risk a general war, Acheson has pointed out, then the west cannot hesitate because of the danger of provoking the little band of men who rule the destinies of so many millions of people. The time has passed when a wait-to-see-what-happens stance can look like anything but the unhappy stance of an ostrich.

• • •

The question that occurs at once is how quickly can the Acheson policy be implemented. From Frankfurt in Germany, General Mark Clark, chief of the army's field forces, expresses optimism. He says the first American troops to augment occupation forces will arrive within four months. The intimation is that five new American divisions eventually will be sent to Europe.

Other military planners are not so optimistic. They say that divisions to be sent to Europe within a relatively short time would have to be national guard divisions. Then, what would you do about dependents? American troops now on occupation duty have their wives and children with them. To extend this privilege to guard divisions sent to West Germany would be costly and complicated.

A question with even broader implications is: What happens to these troops if months and even years go by and there is no war? America is virtually mobilized on a war footing. But none of the powerful incentives of a war are present. So there is serious deterioration, both economic and psychological, among soldiers and civilians.

Secretary Acheson would undoubtedly reply that this is one of the risks. In any event, he is off the dead center of rasping and harassing conflict and moving forward on a clear line in which he believes deeply and passionately.

whole thing, and although, as the court knows, I ain't overfond of this p'tickler dog, I want to see justice done. I've always heard tell that self-defense, with or without a weapon, is a good defense in a court of law. Well, seeing as how this small boy was attacked by the bigger boy—and the only weapon he had to defend himself with was his dog—I say that this dog acted not as a dog in this p'tickler case but as a weapon.

"I, of course, intended to report the matter to the police, but the little fella beat me to it, and seeing as how Your Honor warned him what would happen to his dog in case of a second offense, I think he deserves a whale of credit for bringing the critter forward voluntarily."

• • •

The prosecuting parties quickly saw the justice of the widow's plea, as did the court, and the case against Whiskey was dismissed. And the last I heard of him, the terrier seemed to be adjusting himself fine to country life.

In other words, if Billy's case is any criterion, a dog owner who is honorable enough to take responsibility for the actions of his pet stands a good chance of getting fair-minded and sympathetic treatment in court. And I think you'll grant that I'm in a pretty good position to know about such things.

Leave all lesser exhibitions and just take

Into blossoms wide as platters massive

Always true to type and color and they're

Very meekly it surrenders to the slightest

Professions Still Popular

PRAGUE—(AP)—Though miners and factory workers enjoy a relatively high social and economic status in Czechoslovakia, young people are still eager to enter the professions.

Adult Education Registration This Year Heaviest In History

Registration in adult education courses is the heaviest this year that it has ever been, Miss Ona Wagner, director, said Wednesday.

Adult high school registration opened Monday night with 94 persons signing up. By Wednesday, registration had climbed over the 100 mark. This is the largest enrollment in history for the first two days of registration, Miss Wagner said.

By way of comparison, she stated that in other years "we thought we had done well when we had approached the 100 mark by Christmas time."

The largest registration of aliens in recent years also has occurred this year with 153 persons signing up. A big majority of the aliens are displaced persons, Miss Wagner commented.

Classes Scheduled.

She said there also is a good-sized enrollment in typing classes.

Beginning shorthand classes will begin Sept. 19 at 6:30 p. m. at the public administration building and beginning bookkeeping classes will start Sept. 20 at 6:30 at the same place.

A discussion group with book reviews on international relations also will begin Sept. 22 at 9:30 a. m. in the city library. "India and Southeast Asia" will be the topic.

Plans call for the opening soon of classes in art, public speaking and creative writing, Miss Wagner said.

It is possible to register in general adult education classes anytime, Miss Wagner said. "We are eager to have people make their desires and interests known to us and we shall be glad to try and meet those needs and desires," she added.

This statement must have made a hit with the boss, because Griffith repeated it word-for-word in another speech on Sept. 4. In fact, he hardly changed a comma.

Large Crowds Turn Out For City's 'Overture To Autumn'

At exactly 7:30 Tuesday night police sirens wailed, and eager crowds pushed forward to watch Lincoln stores usher in their "Overture to Autumn."

When the curtains fell back, spectators got their first glimpse of the window decorators' secret efforts. In lush, imaginative settings were the latest in fall fashions, home furnishings, jewelry, and appliances.

Lines stretched from window to window, despite threatening weather, to view Lincoln's twenty-ninth annual fall display night. Before the 7:30 deadline, the American Legion drum and bugle corps paraded through the downtown streets which had been blocked off from parking.

At 7:30 on the dot two police cars, sirens wailing, converged on Thirteenth and O streets to signal the unveiling. A loudspeaker system greeted the Lincoln and out-of-town visitors and then played music while the window-viewers trouped from store front to store front. Even a light shower near opening time failed to dampen the crowd's enthusiasm.

Especially prominent in the women's fall fashion displays were coffee colored fabrics and velvet accessories. One store exhibited a $35,000 necklace. Men's fashions stressed the new suits for trimness and styles, and both women and men were excited over the new tartan plaid sports coats displayed.

Extra police were on duty to handle the crowds and to catch the kids running into the street after the floating bubbles from one display.

When the music stopped at 10 p. m., large groups still strolled downtown enjoying the lavish settings, and even the last to leave got home easily; Lincoln City Lines kept extra buses on duty until the downtown area was cleared.

Three Men Plead 'Not Guilty' To Robbery Charge

Three men, who allegedly stuck a nickle-plated revolver in the faces of a pair of Air Force privates, took their cash and then ordered them to "start running," pleaded not guilty Tuesday to a charge of robbery.

Preliminary hearings for the trio will be held Friday in Municipal court. Bill Danley, 28, of 1500 P; Robert Louis Gieser, 38, of Minneapolis and John W. Donahue, 25, also of Minneapolis were placed under bond of $2,500 each.

The state charges that the three men took $30 in cash from Privates First Class Alvin G. McGill, 19, and Robert J. Glass, 21, on Highway 34 north of West Lincoln.

The two privates, both stationed at Offutt Field in Omaha, told law enforcement officers that they accepted a ride Sept. 6 from three men who robbed them on the highway and then ordered them from the car.

Hershey Promises Big Draft

Inductee Total May Go To Half Million Before Next July 1

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Maj Gen. Lewis B. Hershey is making plans for inducting between 370,000 and 500,000 men into the armed services before next July 1.

He told the senate appropriations committee at a closed session Sept. 1 that his "most conservative estimate" was "at least 370,000, and maybe 400,000 and maybe 500,000."

Hershey made the statement—published by the committee yesterday—in asking approval of a supplemental appropriation of $20,476,000 for his agency. The house, which already has acted on his request, cut it to $19,360,030.

Cold War Doubted As Cause Of Hog Losses

No Evidence Found To Support Biological Warfare Idea, Animal Husbandry Dept. Says

WASHINGTON—(AP)—State and agriculture department officials are skeptical that the cold war is to blame for a recent high death rate among hogs in the middle west corn belt. Agriculture experts pushed ahead today with an investigation.

Suspicions that the losses might be caused by some kind of biological warfare waged by enemies of the United Nations were voiced yesterday by Rep. Karl Stefan (R-Neb).

Pointing to reports that farmers in his state have lost from 30 to 50 per cent of their hogs following anti-cholera injections, Stefan said he was asking FBI director, J. Edgar Hoover and the agriculture department, to investigate.

Suspects Plot.

"This could wipe out our pork population," Stefan said. "It is apparently some kind of plot to ruin our pork supply. It has been going on since 1949 and appears to be getting worse."

But Dr. B. T. Simms, chief of the agriculture department's bureau of animal husbandry, reported his agency has found no evidence to support the biological warfare idea. The bureau investigated reports of heavy hog losses in the midwest last year and is now carrying on an inquiry into recent losses.

The finding on last year's hog mortality was that it was due to a "variant," or slight change in the form of the virus in the anti-cholera vaccination process.

Production Supervised.

The serum is produced under department supervision. The investigators found no evidence, Dr. Simms told a reporter, of any tampering with the production of the serum.

State department officials made it plain the government has no intention of trying to make propaganda capital out of the situation, as the communists did in a similar one.

When potato bugs went on their annual rampage in east Germany last June, Moscow and other communist capitals loosed a blast of charges that American agents had spread the pests to damage the economy of the Soviet occupation zone. The state department ridiculed the charge.

Replying to a Russian complaint, the U. S. said the Soviet experts themselves had reported the potato bugs were thriving before the U. S. became a communist target.

Communist Clezchoslovakia was told in a formal note that the potato bug is unsuited to the role of "an instrument of national policy."

Dr. H. U. Garrett, Iowa state veterinarian, said that his office is concerned about the virus causing trouble after vaccination but that he did not believe it was caused by biological warfare germs.

"It is just something we haven't been able to trace down yet," he said. "Hog losses in Iowa haven't been too great considering the total number of herds that have been fed this year."

Stefan told of his fears over hog losses after alarmed farmers visited his Norfolk office yesterday to tell of losing 30 to 50 per cent of their hogs after they had been vaccinated for cholera. The congressman said he would ask an investigation.

Faulty Serum Given Blame For Hog Loss

. . . By N. U. Expert

"Probably faulty serum, but not necessarily sabotage," was blamed for corn belt hog losses Wednesday by Prof. M. A. Alexander of the University of Nebraska animal husbandry department.

Alexander said he knew of no serious losses in recent years, not since vaccination against cholera first started.

He said the 30 to 50 per cent death rate could probably be traced back through the serum used to either impure serums used in vaccinations or improper methods of vaccination.

Hultberg Will Go To Chicago Meeting

LeRoy Hultberg, county director of welfare, was authorized by the county commissioners to attend the American Public Welfare association convention in Chicago on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 and 2.

Hultberg appeared before the commissioners for a brief meeting. The commissioners also formally approved a state-planned medical program designed to suit local needs.

Rain Causes Plowing Match Postponement

. . . Reset For Thursday

URBANA, O.—(INS) — Continued heavy rains in mid-central Ohio forced temporary postponement of the national level land and contour plowing matches scheduled for today at Urbana.

Chairman Howard Stickley of the plowing match committee announced that, weather permitting, the competition will be conducted tomorrow, instead of as originally planned.

If the rain lets up, the two-day event is expected to attract close to 100,000 spectators.

Highlight of the closing day of the matches will be the national contour plowing matches. Expected to win in those is 25-year-old Dean Wilson, the Urbana plow jockey who has won the national title the last two years.

Torn-Up Streets Are Blamed For Bus Slow-Down

Einar L. Stenhammer, manager of Lincoln City Lines, said that because of streets being torn up in the downtown area Monday night, causing larger loops through the business district, bus schedules were slowed as much as 30 minutes.

The most trouble encountered, according to Stenhammer, was on lines running east and west on O street. He said the buses on these routes were overcrowded between the hours of 4:45 and 6 p. m. because of an unexpected amount of circus goers.

Stenhammer told Safety Director Roy Osborn that since parallel parking was put into effect on N street, between Tenth and Eleventh, there has been no delay in bus schedules in that area.

Employes Of Library Get Pay Hikes

. . . Kyle Heads Board

A new scale for classification and pay of library employes was adopted at a meeting of the Lincoln city library board Tuesday afternoon. Pay increases, according to a scale, will be granted those employed whose length of service makes them eligible.

Charles Dalrymple, director of the library, said the period of eligibility for raises ranges from six months for professional workers, to clerical and non-library workers. More than 40 persons or about 90 per cent of all library employes will be effected by the pay scale. Director Dalrymple was also granted a $50 monthly raise. This will bring his salary from $5,000 to $5,600 annually.

The raises, in step with pay increases given other city employes, will amount to a total of $3,400 per year. It was made possible by an increased appropriation for salary uses by the city. The pay boosts will be paid retroactive to Sept. 1, the beginning of the library's fiscal year.

Adams Retires.

Homer Kyle was elected president of the board. He replaces Morris N. Adams, who is retiring after seven years service as a board member and officer.

Kyle was formerly vice president of the board. Mrs. William I. Aitken was elected vice president and Mrs. C. M. Duff secretary. Approval of the slate by the board was unanimous.

$117,093 Expenditure.

The financial report for the 1949-1950 fiscal year, showed an expenditure, for all the city libaries, of $117,093.16, with an unspent $6.84 from the library appropriation, reverting to the city.

Two members of the board, Joe R. Seacrest and Director Dalrymple, were named to act as a public relations group for the library and to function as an endowment organization. The committee will inform the public of the benefits to be derived from gifts and endowments to the library.

A letter from the board will be sent to former president Adams expressing its appreciation for his service. A summary of the library's accomplishments during his tenure will accompany the letter.

Counties with one new case each: Colfax, Couming, Custer, Dawes, Hall, Madison, Pierce, Polk, Saunders, York.

Driver Is Fined $50, License Also Suspended

A truck driver who lost his drivers license for six months Tuesday as the result of a drunk and driving conviction protested that he would not be able to make a living without the license.

"I'm sorry," Municipal Judge E. C. Fisher said, "but people who really need a license should think of that before they drink and then drive." Judge Fisher ordered the man, Doyle Radspinner, 27, 4402 South Forty-ninth, to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Radspinner pleaded guilty to the charge. Police testified that they booked him after investigating an accident Tuesday at Twenty-fifth and O.

Originally the wireless distress call at sea was "COD" but this was changed to "SOS" primarily because its coded three dots, three dashes and three dots are much easier read.

Backers Of Acheson Cheered

Resignation Of Johnson Ends Feud Within Cabinet

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Defense Secretary Johnson's resignation was seen by U. S. and foreign diplomats at the Big Three meeting here today as a move strengthening Secretary of State Acheson in his drive to speed up the organization of a strong Atlantic alliance defense force in western Europe.

President Truman's decision to name former Secretary of State George Marshall to succeed Johnson reinforced the view that Acheson policies will now have full and vigorous support of the Truman cabinet without the frictions and delays which have been attributed to the so-called Johnson-Acheson feud.

Actually many insiders feel the importance of this feud's effects on policy has been considerably exaggerated, although there is evidence that it has hampered the ability of the state and defense departments to work together on grave international issues for a year or so.

News of Johnson's resignation and Marshall's impending appointment hit the Big Three conference like a bombshell. Late in the evening Acheson himself was given detailed press reports, but had nothing to say of the development.

His associates were obviously cheered; some had chafed for months under an Acheson-imposed rule which said in effect that if Johnson wanted to feud with him it was Johnson's business, but Acheson's aids were not to fight back. They were to keep their mouths shut.

Sign of Confidence.

Diplomats, normally sensitive to any ascendancy of military influence in policy making, feel no fear on that score in connection with Marshall. Rather it is the reverse The recent incidents of Navy Secretary Matthews' statement on preventive war and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's outspoken views on Formosa tended to create fears in the state department that Johnson might be swinging away from the civilian-directed international policies of the government into a tough-handed military kind of policy.

Foreign diplomats in the main have not given evidence of deep concern over the possible effects on American foreign policy of the Acheson-Johnson rift, but there was speculation over where it would lead. This dated back to the time when much of Washington expected that both Acheson and Johnson would be let out. The fact that Acheson stays while Johnson goes is thus interpreted as confirmation of the president's continuing confidence in Acheson —which also is the feeling of Acheson's own close associates.

Jacobson Told Keep Fighting Gas Rate Hike

Next Hearing Set For September 18

City Attorney John Jacobson was requested Tuesday to continue intervention proceedings against Northern Natural Gas company's requested rate increase.

Members of the special gas committee of the utilities section, League of Nebraska Municipalities, requested that Jacobson continue as representative for the league at the next hearing, Sept. 18.

Jacobson told the committee, headed by Attorney R. R. Perry, that the first hearing held in Washington during the week of Aug. 28, failed to bring out evidence by Northern, warranting the 10 per cent increase in rates they are seeking.

He told the city council after his return from Washington, that the hearing had been adjourned until Sept. 18 when cross examination would be held.

Site Not Set.

Interveners in the Northern fight, asked the FPC to hold the next hearing in Omaha. Approval of this has not been given.

According to Attorney Perry, there are three Nebraska petitions entered in the application hearing. These represent Lincoln, eight other Nebraska municipalities receiving Northern's gas and the league.

Jacobson, the only municipality representative from Nebraska at the first hearing, represented all three groups.

Northern, which serves 28 utilities in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota, applied for the $3,200,000 a year rate increase last March on the basis of costs for a capacity of 470,000,000 cubic feet per day.

Cost $30,000.

It was estimated that the increase would cost Lincoln from $30,000 to $35,000 a year. This amount would have to be absorbed by the individual users in the community.

Representing the Central Electric and Gas company in Washington at the Aug. 28 meeting were attorney Lloyd Marti, Leonard Densmore and Everett Baxter.

Their company distributes gas for the Northern Natural Gas company in South Dakota and Nebraska.

Attorney Jacobson told the city council that oral arguments probably would be held on Sept. 25 before a committee of the federal power commission. He stated that only the applicant's evidence has been presented to the FPC.

Ordinance For Changing Code Being Studied

An ordinance introduced at the city council meeting will amend Lincoln's municipal code and lift restrictions on apartment additions.

The ordinance was drawn up as a result of a request by J. B. and Elizabeth Strackbein last Monday to buildt two apartments in the basement of the property at 1515 South Eleventh.

Building Inspector E. A. Vorhees had denied their permit application because of requirements of additions to group J buildings.

The new ordinance states that in two-story buildings of wood structure, two basement apartments are permitted, provided that two exits to the outside are available and the construction is approved according to fire-precaution standards.

Other ordinances introduced were:

Sewer construction, O street, Fifty-second to Fifty-sixth.

Water main, Mohawk, Forty-third to Forty-fourth; L and Lenox Fifty-sixth to Cotner.

Paving, P street, Forty-first to Forty-third; Thirty-fifth, L to Wood.

Graveling, Mohawk, Forty-third to Forty-fourth.

Trailer Site Building May Become Home

. . . Plan Studied

City Engineer D. L. Erickson, last week directed to sell two abandoned buildings at the old trailer site near Antelope park, was asked Monday if one of the buildings couldn't be used for housing.

In response to Councilwoman Fern Hubbard Orme's suggestion and the approval of other council members, Erickson met with Max Swan, manager of housing at Huskville and Glenn Suiker, acting park superintendent.

If the housing authority accepts the abandoned building and finds a site for it, one more Lincoln family will have "low cost" housing.

Left Idle.

Erickson said that land and about nine buildings, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth, south of Randolph, had been left idle by city council action moving the 50 trailer homes from their into accredited camps.

His plans, which received informal approval from the council at that time were to sell two of the structures. The others were to go to various parks for storage purposes.

Councilwoman Fern Hubbard Orme told the council that something should also be done about the abandoned isolation hospital Sixth and Hatch. She stated that six families could be housed there.

The housing authority stated, several weeks ago, it had no interest in the hospital buildings.

Hessian Fly Free Dates Announced

The annual hessian fly free date for planting winter wheat has been released by the University of Nebraska's entomology department.

For the eastern third of the state entomologists advise planting after Sept. 13; central third, after Sept. 14; western third, after Sept. 15.

The hessian fly infestation, entomologists said, has been very light over the entire wheat belt this year. This, they said, does not indicate that the hessian fly can be ignored.

In areas where Pawnee wheat is adaptable the variety is the least injured by the insect, they said.

Samples for the hessian fly survey were collected by Nebraska county extension agents and analyzed by the University of Nebraska entomology department. This is an annual survey to determine when it is safe to plant wheat and avoid ravages of the hessian fly.

Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief! It's Now Possible To RELIEVE THE CAUSE OF YOUR SICKNESS

Neuritis Pains, Stomach Disturbances, Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, Constipation, Certain Nervous Disorders When Due to Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin in Your System!

Just a Few of Thousands Upon Thousands of Interesting Records of Folks With Such Deficiencies Who Have Been Helped

Mrs. C. C. Keller, 1629½ Frederick Avenue, St. Joseph, Missouri, says HADACOL really has put a stop to her neuritis pains. She was in a very bad condition with aches and pains and unable to sleep and was forced to give up her position as a practical nurse. She had severe pains in wrists and stiffness in her hips, being almost unable to walk. Now after taking one bottle of HADACOL, she is able to do her own housework. She most enthusiastically recommends HADACOL to all sufferers from neuritis pains.

Floyd Mabe, 1401A South 7th Street, St. Louis, Missouri: "For some time after a wartime injury I had been troubled with neuritis pains in my legs and could not work. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried HADACOL. After taking a half bottle, I seemed to feel better. My wife told me it was only my imagination, but I continued to take HADACOL and up to the present have taken 13 bottles. Now I feel fine with no more pains in my legs." (HADACOL is so effective because it relieves THE REAL CAUSE of neuritis aches when due to such deficiencies. Why don't you give HADACOL a chance to help you?)

Link Robinson (a steel worker for over 20 years), 519 Lindsey, Newport, Kentucky: "When your stomach is in bad shape as mine, couldn't eat, gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness, then your body doesn't get the proper foods it needs. My boss told me about HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement. Now I can eat anything I want to. Best of all I haven't got those terrific gas pains and stomach bloating."

Mrs. John Geary, 840 Ursuline Street, New Orleans, Louisiana: "I had such a nervous stomach I was unable to eat regularly. Lots of times I was unable to hold any food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all. I eat anything I want. HADACOL is wonderful. You can see that, if it did so much for me after suffering so." (A big improvement is often noticed within a few days' time. One of the many advantages of HADACOL is that continued use helps prevent such stomach distress from returning. Don't continue to suffer. Start taking HADACOL today!)

Mrs. L. Crifasi, 327 N. 14th Street, Springfield, Illinois: "I am elated with the wonderful results obtained by taking HADACOL. I had emotional indigestion, which is stomach distress and makes a person feel down and out. HADACOL seemed to be prepared for my ailment, for it made a new woman of me."

W. E. Hoxworth, a skilled maintenance man in Waco, Texas: "I almost had to give up my job because of suffering from stomach distress. I couldn't hold my food, as no food agreed with me. After hearing about HADACOL and completing a second bottle, I began to feel better and regain the weight I lost, and suffered no more indigestion. I now take HADACOL regularly to help stay well." (Why don't you try HADACOL?)

Mrs. J. Scieszinski, 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is five years old and for some time lacked pep, had a poor appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results. She has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table and doesn't seem tired like she used to. Incidentally, she likes to take her HADACOL, too." (Kiddies sure do like HADACOL.)

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc—the Man Responsible for the Great New HADACOL

Now! Thanks to the tireless efforts in scientific research of Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc—eminent statesman of Louisiana and creator of this great new HADACOL nutritional formula — it's at last possible to relieve the REAL CAUSE of such ailments as neuritis pains, stomach distress, gas pains, heartburn, indigestion, insomnia, certain nervous disorders and a general run-down condition due to lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin.

Senator LeBlanc has just completed a modern $250,000 manufacturing plant and a similar one is well under way so that this wonderful HADACOL will always be available to the public.

What the Great HADACOL Does...

No longer do you have to be satisfied with symptomatic relief—you can start this very day, and relieve the REAL CAUSE of such ailments with HADACOL. Get that wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about! A big improvement in the way you feel is often noticed in a few days.

And continued use of HADACOL helps prevent such ailments from coming back. Naturally, there's an explanation for this. You see, HADACOL not only feeds deficient, run-down systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese — elements so vital to help maintain good health and guard against such deficiency sickness.

Sold on Strict Money-Back Guarantee

Don't continue to suffer! Be fair to yourself — start taking HADACOL today. HADACOL is very inexpensive—costs only a small amount daily. And HADACOL must help you, or your money will be returned. Trial size, only $1.25 a bottle. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse any substitute. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc

Gypsy Rose Lee Finds A Defender

President Of Radio Net Demands Red Evidence

NEW YORK — (AP) — The American Broadcasting company has declined to accept — without substantiating evidence — a Chicago American Legion official's charge that Gypsy Rose Lee has pro-communist sympathies.

In a related move, an AFL theatrical union denounced "irresponsible smearing of the reputations of actors to an extent which is becoming alarmingly dangerous."

The union condemned the dismissal of actress Jean Muir from a television show after she was listed in "Red Channels," a privately published booklet listing 150 radio figures allegedly having communist connections.

Assailed By Legionnaire.

Miss Lee, strip-teaser and author scheduled to star in a new ABC show starting Saturday, was assailed Monday by Edward Clamage, chairman of the Illinois Legion's anti-subversive committee.

He said she reportedly was a "dear and close associate of traitors of our country." Noting that her name appeared in "Red Channels," he wired ABC asking what it was going to do about her program.

Robert E. Kintner, ABC president, yesterday replied that Miss Lee had signed a sworn affidavit denying any communist sympathies or ties. The message to Clamage added:

"If you have evidence to the contrary, please advise."

Union Protests.

Meanwhile, the council of the AFL Actors Equity association said some employers in the industry were "allowing themselves to be intimidated by a few private individuals and publications who, in the irresponsible manner of vigilantes, have improperly assumed the functions of government."

The council specifically protested the dismissal of Miss Muir from a show by the sponsor, General Foods Corp. The company said she had become "too controversial." Miss Muir denied any communist links.

The actors' group said it opposed communism and fascism but thought the government could handle subversive activity. It charged private groups were unjustly ruining entertainers' reputations, and depriving them of livelihoods without giving them a chance to refute pro-communist charges.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embassass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

A. C. Storz, Jr., Faces A $150,000 Breach Of Contract Suit

OMAHA — (AP) — A $150,000 break of contract suit has been filed against the son of an Omaha brewing company official by a young woman who says she was jilted.

The young woman, Mary Lou Sullivan, 23, filed the suit against Arthur C. Storz, jr., 29, son of a Storz Brewing company official. Miss Sullivan, also known as Mary Patricia Sullivan, was runnerup in the Miss Omaha contest in 1947.

In her petition, Miss Sullivan asserted that an acquaintance with Storz began in December, 1947, and "ripened into courtship." The petition said Storz proposed marriage and Miss Sullivan accepted his ring in July or August, 1948.

New $100,000 Varsity Theater To Open Thursday

The modern and all-new Varsity theater re-opens at 8 p. m. Thursday with Walt Disney's mighty adventure drama—"Treasure Island."

Closed since May 1, the Varsity is a low building with a massive off-white stone and ribbed aluminum front.

The building permit taken out by the Nebraska Theater corporation with the city called for an expenditure of $49,000 in main construction costs, plus $800 for a marquee.

Wednesday Walter Jancke, city manager for the corporation, estimated the total cost of the theater, including interior appointments, would probably run around $100,000.

Murals A Feature.

Feature of the luxurious entertainment house is the black-light murals done by Hanns Teichert of Chicago. Teichert is one of the nation's foremost theater decorators. The signs of the zodiac, with Leo the Lion predominating on one wall and the Centaur on the opposite wall, are all magnificently portrayed on a Milky Way background.

Paint used was impregnated with ultra-violet lights, yielding an interesting result.

Daring use of bright colors can be seen in the lobby. Teichert, splashing the brightest of hues with abandon, has a forceful but not distracting foyer. Thick carpeting uses several shades of green.

First In 10 Years.

The reopening of the Varsity marks the first time in 10 years that a new Lincoln theater has had an opening. The earlier occasion was also the Varsity.

Jancke will manage the new theater, owned by the corporation which includes the Varsity, the State and the Husker.

In recent years the State has been the corporation's "main house," showing its best pictures. Now the leading theater in the group is the Varsity.

Jancke has had all new chairs with self-rising seats installed. These chairs are upholstered all over—even the backs.

Large-Size Screen.

A new large-size screen has been installed, as have all new drapes.

The latest development in sound reproduction, the "Voice of the Theater" system, was installed.

Assenmacher Construction Co., handled the construction work, and designed the pattern in which the stones used in the outside walls were laid.

Regular shows will start Friday.

The present building, known as the Varsity building, of which the Varsity theater is a part, was originally the Oliver building.

Built In 1890.

The Oliver building, including the Oliver theater, was part of Lincoln's 1890 building expansion.

Later the Oliver building was renamed the Liberty building, and the Oliver theater was renamed the Liberty theater.

In 1939 the names were changed to Varsity building and Varsity theater. (For a short time the theater's entire name was actually the New Varsity, but the word "New" was dropped.)

The current construction work makes no change in the name of either the building or the theater.

In the present Varsity building there are offices for retail stores, in addition to the Varsity theater.

120 Citizens To Be Called To Jury Duty

In about another week, 120 summonses will be sent by registered mail to Lancaster county voters calling them for jury duty.

The order calling the jurors was filed in District court by Judges J. H. Broady, Harry R. Ankeny and Ralph P. Wilson. Statutory law designates a 90-person panel, but the judges felt this insufficient for needs of the court.

Jury Commissioner George H. Meyer said questionnaires regarding the status of registered voters have already been sent out. This is done, he said, by a "key number" system.

System Outlined.

Meyer said only Lancaster and Douglas counties use the system. This is how it works:

Ten numbers, from 1 to 10, are placed in a small box.

One is selected blindly from the box.

The number is sent to Election Commissioner Ray Frohn, who takes the name of every person who who voted in the last general election and has signed on the line ending in the number selected.

This list is sent to Meyer, who sends questionnaires to all persons on the list.

Status Determined.

Information on the questionnaire determines the status of persons and whether or not they are eligible to serve on a jury.

Automatically exempt, Meyer said, are judges, court clerks, practicing attorneys, physicians, registered pharmacists, licensed embalmers, national guard members, fire department or company members, postmasters, mail carriers, ministers and practicing dentists.

At the discretion of the jury commissioner, he may also excuse those with some infirmity such as hard of hearing, bedridden, etc.

Age qualificiations are from 25 to 70.

'Jury Wheel.'

After all members of the working list are exempted, the remainder is placed in a "jury wheel," a small brown box.

The judges then, in the presence of the jury commissioner, select 120 names from the box. The first judge draws the name and hands it to the second judge, who reads it. The third judge checks the name for spelling and the jury commissioner writes the name down. This is done until the list of 120 is completed.

Those whose names appear on the list will be sent a summons by registered mail Sept. 22, Meyer said. Jurors called will be expected to serve two weeks and will report Oct. 2. They are not to leave unless they are excused.

July pay is $4 a day. And, employers are required to let employes serve on juries.

Of the 120 summonses sent out, at least 72 must serve on a jury. So, after 48 are excused, the rest must serve.

Trucker Escapes Possible Death At Rail Crossing

LEXINGTON, Neb.—(AP)—A truck driver escaped possible death Tuesday night by abandoning his vehicle as a freight train bore down on it at a crossing.

Paul Duschka of Lexington was driving a truck of the W. J. Small company alfalfa mill. He noticed the Union Pacific freight train as he approached a crossing four miles east of Lexington on Highway 30. But the brakes failed, so Duschka abandoned the truck.

Parts of the truck were scattered 50 feet from the tracks as the collision demolished the engine and cab.

Duschka came to Lexington recently from Ogallala.

Marlow Asks: Where Are United States' Great Men?

Marshall Asked To Carry One More Great Burden

BY JAMES MARLOW.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—This writer has great respect for Gen. George C. Marshall as a man, as a citizen, as a soldier, and as a public servant.

So what follows here is not meant as a criticism of him. But his selection by President Truman to succeed Louis Johnson as secretary of state raises one question at once:

Why, in a country of 150,000,000 people, does one man, like General Marshall, have to serve in one critical job after another? Are no other men capable of filling critical jobs well?

Marshall was chief of staff during World war II. He retired in 1945, thinking that after his long army career and world war duties he could get a well-earned rest.

Only Man Capable.

But the situation in China—between Chiang Kai-shek and the communists—was so bad that Mr. Truman called the general out of retirement and sent him to China as the one man capable of mediating the dispute.

Then when Marshall finished that job, Mr. Truman asked him to be secretary of state. A good man was needed. Marshall was a good man. He served until ill health forced him to retire again to private life.

He's 69 years old, and now, with the nation in a dither over its defenses, Marshall once more is asked to help the country out.

Granted that Marshall is one of the outstanding men of his time, it still is some kind of commentary on the other 150,000,000 people that one man repeatedly has to be called on to bail his country out of trouble.

Then there's another question: How will Marshall make out if congress approves his appointment as secretary of defense? Elections are coming in November. Few people are sacred in politics. Will he get a political kicking around?

Until now the republicans have been blaming Secretary of State Dean Acheson for our China policy. That policy can be stated briefly:

Several years ago the Truman administration decided it was hopeless to keep pouring help into Chiang Kai-shek's government in its fight against the Chinese communists. On these grounds:

That Chiang's government was corrupt, that it wouldn't take the steps at reform necessary to help itself, and that it could not win against the communists so long as it persisted in not reforming.

As a result, American aid was withdrawn and eventually the communists drove Chiang out.

Marshall And Acheson.

Marshall had a big hand in shaping that policy. When Acheson succeeded him as secretary of state, the policy was continued, always of course, with the approval of Mr. Truman, who was the connecting link between the two men.

But for many months now, with the communists in control of China, Acheson has been condemned by the republicans for our China policy. Sen. McCarthy, Wisconsin republican, even called him the "red dean."

It seems unlikely that anyone would dare try to put any red labels on Marshall but— Now we'll have to see whether Marshall is going to be criticized along with Acheson for the China policy. The latter until now has had to bear the brunt of the attacks almost alone.

Lincoln's Store Sales Up 19 Pct.

P. T. A. September Garden Exhibits

The copper and russet tones of chrysanthemums mingled with the scarlet of tamatoes and the pale gold of pumpkins and gourds at the annual garden exhibits of Lincoln school children form a suitable background for the first fall meetings of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher associations. Products of the pupils' own summer gardens, the flowers and vegetable displays have become a favorite annual feature for the members of the P.T.A.

Pictured above is the garden exhibit displayed Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium of HAYWARD school when the P.T.A. members met at 2 o'clock for their regular September meeting.

Mrs. John Schwindt presided at the affair, which included a program of community singing, and Mrs. George Dering, garden chairman, presented certificates of merit to the pupils completing the garden requirements during the past summer. Slides of the school gardens and of other summer activities were shown by Mrs. Dering.

Serving as hostesses for the tea and social hour were mothers of kindergarten pupils, and introduced to the group as chairmen of the various committees were: Program, Mrs. Walter Goeschel; social, Mrs. Clarence Carlson; membership, Mrs. Herman Hahn; garden and recreation, Mrs. George Dering; health, Mrs. John George; adult education, Mrs. V. Harold Spomer; hospitality, Mrs. George Knaub; safety, Mrs. C. W. Fagler, and publicity, Mrs. William Sommer.

The annual garden display of Havelock P.T.A. was also held on Tuesday afternoon when garden certificates and awards were presented to the students of Havelock school by Mrs. L. L. Mellon, garden chairman. Mrs. Mellon was assisted by Mrs. M. H. Walter.

Presiding at the business meeting was Mrs. Charles Price, and elected to serve as secretary was Mrs. Art Bell. Chosen to represent the group at the district P.T.A. meeting on September 19 were Mrs. Price, the president, Mrs. Frank Svoboda, Mrs. Art Bell, Mrs. Margaret Harman and Mrs. R. W. Robinson.

Members of the executive committee, Mrs. J. W. Downs, social chairman, Mrs. C. A. Pitt, Mrs. E. L. Wollen, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Jack Gorrod and Mrs. H. M. Overton, served as hostesses for the social hour.

The first meeting of the fall season fro the SACRED HEART P.T.A. was held Tuesday afternoon following a covered dish luncheon. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Arthur Hansacker, Mrs. A. L. Sinamark and Mrs. Sam Zweig.

Elected to fill vacancies on the executive board due to resignations were Mrs. Arthur Hansacker, vice president, and Mrs. Howard Wilson, secretary.

A change of meeting has been announced for the members of HARTLEY P.T.A. who planned their opening program of the season for Tuesday, September 19. The affair will be held instead at 1:15 o'clock, Friday afternoon, September 15, in the school auditorium.

A featured speaker for the afternoon will be Dr. Steven Watkins, new superintendent of Lincoln public schools.

Girl Scout Council Meets

Mrs. A. L. Lew, Lincoln commissioner of Girl Scouts, presided at the first fall meeting of the Lincoln Girl Scout council, held Wednesday, at the Hotel Cornhusker. Miss Ruth Weston, Lincoln, who recently assumed her duties as Nebraska field director was presented to the council. She is a native of York, and was active in church and Y-Teen camp work and taught English and dramatics in the Polk high school before becoming associated with the Girl Scouts.

Ste attended Nebraska Wesleyan university and was graduated with honors from York college.

Four delegates were named to the six-state regional conference to be held Oct. 24-26 at Denver, Colo. They are Mrs. A. L. It's A Gay And Wonderful Mood

ARE WE EVER IN THE mood—for the football season! Chattered today with Messrs. Tom Harvey of the Lincoln Country club, and Gordon High, manager of the University club, just to see what they had in mind for the populace beginning on Saturday, September 30, and continuing through the football season.

We found that basically things are to be much the same as in past seasons—the same, plus.

For instance—The Lincoln Country club will have its usual pre-game luncheon (not buffet))—and the usual bus ride to the stadium—and back. There will be a dinner dance following each home game, and we may as well tell you right now that there will be something extra-special for the homecoming game.

* * *

MR. HIGH HAD CONSIDERABLE to offer—There will be, as usual, the pre-game buffet—and there is to be a buffet at the dinner hour. However Mr. High adds something new—an hors d'oeuvres hour, game or no game—and it begins on Saturday, September 23. Naturally it will continue through the football season, and on—and on. Anyway, home game football nights at the University club will be somewhat gayer than usual—there is to be dancing during and following dinner—Everything is most informal, and not in any sense of the word is it a dinner dance—just a buffet, and dancing.

* * *

NOW THAT WE HAVE LAUNCHED the football season we'll get on to more immediate matters — such as parties for a bride-to-be, Miss Sally O'Shea—

On Saturday Miss O'Shea will be the honoree when Mrs. Robert Simon is hostess at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simon. The guests have been invited for luncheon and a kitchen shower for the bride-elect.

* * *

THEN COMES SUNDAY, and the brunch for which Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart will be host and hostess at the Lincoln Country club when they entertain in prenuptial courtesy to Miss O'Shea and her fiance, Harry Meginnis. The guest list of twenty-two will include members of the families.

* * *

FOUND SOME NON-BRIDAL affairs for the week-end, however—

Coming from Beatrice on Thursday evening as the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Heath Griffiths (Beatrice) at the University club, and to attend the Hayloft theater afterward will be Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson B. Weston, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Weston, jr.

* * *

THE FOURSOME OF WESTONS—Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Weston and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Weston, jr., will come to Lincoln again on Saturday evening, as will Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nichols, also of Beatrice—to be the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Kenagey at the University club.

* * *

LEAVING ON THURSDAY for Richmond, Va., will be Chief Justice and Mrs. Robert G. Simmons. From Richmond, where Justice Simmons will attend a conference of chief justices, the travelers will go to Washington, D. C. for the annual meeting of the American Bar association, and where they also will visit their son, Ray, who is law clerk to Justice Harold H. Burton of the United States Supreme court.

* * *

BUT BACK TO THE party calendar — Understand that Dr. and Mrs. Frank Tanner have invited a guest eightsome for dinner on Friday evening at the Lincoln Country club—Following dinner the group will go to the home of the host and hostess for an informal evening.

* * *

* * *

THE FLAGS ARE FLYING in the nursery at Lincoln General hospital today to welcome young Miss Knudsen who arrived on Wednesday, September 13—Miss Knudsen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knudsen, and her mother is the former Sally Stebbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Irl Stebbins—

* *

AND ALSO JOINING the Lincoln General hospital Stork club today was a young fellow by the name of Davie, whose parents are Dr. and Mrs. Fred G. Davie, and whose mother is the former Jean Carnahan.

MRS. DWIGHT E. GRISWOLD

Hartrice Johnson, Bride Of Dwight E. Griswold

On Sunday

The chancel of Trinity Lutheran church at Newman Grove was decorated with spreading arrangements of white gladioli and greenery, with white cathedral candles burning in pedestal candelabra, for the marriage of Miss Hartrice Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben A. Johnson of Newman Grove, to Dwight E. Griswold of Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight P. Griswold of Scottsbluff, on Sunday afternoon, September 10.

The lines of the ceremony were read at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Raymond A. Olson, and Mrs. Virginia Froistad of Newman Grove, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Froistad also accompanied Miss Nanci Harrison of Norfolk, who sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Ich Liebe Dich," preceding the service.

Mrs. John Gayer of Berlin, Germany, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor, and the maid of honor was Miss Madelon Feldman of Newman Grove. Wearing period gowns of lime green satin with long, matching gauntlet mitts, the honor attendants carried Empire bouquets of coppertoned chrysanthemums encircled with ivy leaves. The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Jane Melick of Neligh, Miss Dorothy Senften of Genoa and Miss Dorothy Austin of Newman Grove, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Johnson of Newman Grove, sister of the bride, were frocked identically in gold-toned satin with matching mitts. Deep russet chrysanthemums fashioned their bouquets.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of traditional white slipper satin. Long, fitted sleeves and a small turned-down collar patterned with seed pearls designed the basqued bodice, which was closed down the front with satin-covered buttons. Shirred into fullness, the circular skirt tapered into a cathedral train. She wore a veil, fashioned in the mantilla mode, of heirloom Brussels lace, brought from Europe by Mrs. D. W. Hahn of Omaha, and carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis and calladium leaves centered with a white orchid.

Serving Mr. Griswold as best man was Richard Berkheimer of Gordon, and seating the guests were William Hahn of Omaha, William Hancock of Carson City, Nevada, Dean Heyer of Gordon and Dan Diebler of Mullen.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for two hundred fifty guests was held in the parlors of the church. Included among those assisting at the reception was Miss Louise McDill of Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Griswold will make their home at Gordon when they return from a wedding trip to Yellowstone Park, Wyo. For her traveling costume, the bride wore a wool suit in the black and cinnamon tones with black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Both are graduates of the University of Nebraska where Mrs. Griswold is a member of Chi Omega, and Mr. Griswold is a mamber of Alpha Tau Omega.

Her bridesmaids will be Miss Patricia Wainscott and Mrs. Carroll Roberts, both of Lincoln.

In courtesy to the bride-to-be, Mrs. John Woodward of Beatrice, will entertain at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Saturday at the Hotel Cornhusker. Following the luncheon, the afternoon hours will be spent informally and a shower will be presented to Miss Yates.

Autumn Flower Festival Scheduled For Sunday

There is much more than casual interest in the Autumn Flower Festival which is to be held on Sunday, September 17, in the ballroom at Hotel Cornhusker. All plans have been completed for the show which is an extra-curricular project of the Lincoln Garden club. It seems that fall flower shows rapidly are gaining in popularity throughout the country, and the members of the Lincoln Garden club saw no reason why they should not get into the swim, figuratively speaking, of course.

Anyway, the populace is one hundred per cent in favor of the fall show, and it will give the professional grower and the amateur gardener a gold opportunity to prove that autumn flowers may be grown with success within the boundary lines of Lincoln, and doubtless throughout most of the state. It also will give those addicts of flower arrangements a chance to display their talents with the unsuspecting but altogether lovely garden blooms.

The show, we are told, is non-competitive, but the favorite displays will take a bow, nonetheless, because the visitors may cast their votes.

The general chairmen of the show are L. H. Daft, E. G. Dittmer, and Mrs. John Burley who have announced the following committees and chairmen:

Arrangements, Mrs. Carl Olson; publicity, Mrs. Ralph Ayer; stem section, Mrs. E. H. Hammond, Mrs. Ted Barger, Mrs. J. H. Neal, Mrs. Muir F. Jenkins, Mrs. Allen Korsmeyer, and Miss Bertha Krohn; roses, Miss Pauline Miller; registration, Miss Bernice Kauffman, Mrs. R. J. Wolfe; chrysanthemums, Mrs. Earl Maxwell; evergreens, Earl Maxwell; properties, Mrs. H. R. Beeson; information and hostesses, Mrs. Earl V. Austin; telephone, Mrs. Paul Lessenhop, Mrs. Ted Barger.

It is suggested by flower show authorities, that although the show is not competitive the exhibition should be just as careful of the color form and condition of the displays as though it were—especially if one chooses to be a vote-getter.

Remember, the same authorities say, to pick the material to be used far enough ahead so it can be hardened by deep water in which it should stand for several hours. Gladiola, we are told, should be cut EARLY the morning of the show, and then put into deep water for as long as possible. Each stalk should have three or four florets wide open.

Read the schedule, which will follow in a moment, and conform so that the displays will be uniform. Whenever possible name all blossoms.

Everyone, whether a member of the Garden club or not, is invited to exhibit, but all exhibits must be in place before noon on Sunday, September 17, the day of the show.

Now for the schedule:

DIVISION I

1. Asters — Three blooms of one variety.
2. Asters — Collection — five stems.
3. Chrysanthemum—One stem of each named variety.
4. Cockscomb — One bloom of each variety.

Request Made For Elevator On Sidewalk

The sixth in a series of requests for parking space in front of downtown firms was filed with the city clerk by Charles O. Lawlor.

He states that traffic conditions in the alley behind the store "are such that business is being badly affected."

The sidewalk "dumb waiter" will be used for receiving and delivering merchandise.

Three Stalls.

Lawlor requests three parking stalls "for free access to the elevator."

He adds, "I am sure that in light of recent events that a favorable decision will be made." A copy of his letter was sent to The Star.

Other applications before the city council for parking space was made by The Continental National, The First National bank and the Commonwealth company. All applicants state the intention of installing curb tellers for the convenience of their customers.

An application for a curb teller to be installed at the east side of the National Bank of Commerce has been approved by the city council. This calls for the use of three parking stalls until 2 p. m. Monday through Friday.

The city council Monday denied an application by Mid-Town Liquors for the reservation of two parking stalls in front of that establishment.

To Hear Watkins—Speaker at the Lions club Thursday afternoon will be Dr. Steven Watkins, new superintendent of schools in Lincoln.

Steering Car Is Driving; Even If Motor Turned Off

Even if you are only steering an automobile, with the motor off, while being pushed by another vehicle you are still driving a motor vehicle.

Andrew Bodfield, 223 South Twenty-third, was fined $100 and costs for driving on a suspended drivers license after Municipal Judge E. C. Fisher made that ruling.

Bodfield, whose license was suspended for six months July 21 after a driving conviction, brought witnesses to show that he was only moving his auto and that it would not, and did not, start.

Judge Fisher said that a license suspension means, "just what it says, no driving at all." Bodfield, arrested August 31, filed notice of appeal and bond was set at $200.

$362 Estate Tax

The state treasurer was paid $362 in taxes on the estate of Arthur S. Schwarzentruber, Phillips, Tax Commissionenr Philip Johnson said. The gross value of the estate was $166,256. In addition $185 was paid in county inheritance taxes.

$140,304 Is Added To City School Budget

Made Possible By Increased Valuation

The budget of the Lincoln public schools has been revised to include the $140,304.13 additional revenue provided by Lincoln's increased property valuation of $7,092,179.93.

The board of education approved Tuesday the application of this additional revenue to the June 30 balance of $48,787.63, less unpaid commitments of $10,570 to make an unappropriated balance of $177,259.67.

Application of the additional revenue to the unpaid balance was described "as giving the board ample funds to meet committments during the lean months of tax collection."

The building fund's unappropriated balance of $7,688.14 after actual balance and increased valuation was earmarked: $6,676.14 for the purchase of school equipment for use in the Randolph school four class-room addition; $800 for the purchase of a tractor; $212 for government bonds; and unpaid committments of $665.

The board also increased the non-district tuition rates for 1950-51:

Kindergarten: $2.75 per week; $48.75 per semester; $97.50 per year.

Elementary (grades 1-6): $5.45 per week; $97.50 per semester; $195 per year.

Secondary (grades 7-12): $8.05 per week; $145 per semester; $290 per year.

Nebraska Has $47 Million In Treasury

The state treasury balance was $47,552,584 at the end of August, State Treasurer Edward Gillette reported.

A month earlier the figure had been a record breaking $48,016,980 The cash balance in all funds totalled $22,361,819, compared to $23,101,871.

The remainder of the $47,552,584 total balance was in trust funds.

Gillette said the treasury totals were "holding up well" for this time of year, despite the fact that general fund expenditures last month exceeded receipts for that fund.

The general fund balance on July 31 was $3,315,369, and receipts during August amounted to $1,566,758.

August expenditures from the general fund amounted to $2,241,478, leaving a general fund balance at the end of August of approximately $2,627,000.

August general fund expenditures about $500,000 heavier than July's.

When the state veterans' aid fund reaches its final planned total of $8,000,000, Gillette said, the state's monthly treasury balance should pass the $50,000,000 mark at some seasons of the year.

The veterans' fund now amounts to $6,543,500.

Aid To Spain Draws Favor Most Voters

By GEORGE GALLUP.

(Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.)

PRINCETON, N. J.—Signs of a changing public attitude about our relations with Spain are to be found in a public opinion study just completed by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

For many years following the advent of Franco, popular sentiment in the United States was hostile to the Spanish government. Today in the wake of Congressional authorization of a $62,500,000 Spanish loan — which President Truman has indicated he will hold up—the weight of public opinion in the Institute survey is in favor of:

(1) Admitting Spain as a member of the North Atlantic Security Pact, and (2) Extending economic aid and sending military supplies to Spain now, provided Spain agrees to help us in case of war with Russia.

However the vote on Spain joining the Atlantic Pact is not of overwhelming dimensions. While more favor than oppose it, the number in favor do not constitute an outright majority of all the persons questioned in the study.

Today's survey is an interesting reflection in public opinion of a controversy being waged in Washington between two camps.

One believes that friendly American gestures toward Spain would hurt us with liberal forces the world over and play into Russian propaganda hands.

The other says that the United States would be making a military blunder not to have Spain for an ally and use her as a base in case of general war in Europe.

This survey is designed to show first the opinions of the total sample of the population interviewed, and next the opinions of the better-informed portion of the sample—those who were able to give a correct answer to the preliminary question, "With what country do you associate General Franco?"

A total of 56 per cent correctly identified Franco with Spain.

Voters were then asked two questions dealing with the Atlantic pact and sending supplies to Spain. The following tables show the vote of all persons questioned, and the vote of the best-informed.

"Do you think Spain should or should not be invited to join with the United States and western European nations in the North Atlantic security pact?"

Here is the vote:

	All Voters	'Informed' Voters
Should	48%	53%
Should not	22	28
No opinion	30	19
	100%	100%

"Do you think the United States should or should not give military supplies and economic aid to Spain now if Spain agrees to help us in the event of a war with Russia?"

	All Voters	'Informed' Voters
Should	57%	58%
Shoud not	23	29
No opinion	20	13
	100%	100%

Sentiment for Spanish membership in the Atlantic Pact has increased since a similar survey in May, 1949. At that time the "informed" voters were evenly divided on the question.

The change in sentiment is undoubtedly due to the present gravity of the international situation. It is entirely possible that, if tension between the U. S. and Russia is greatly eased, sentiment for aid to Spain would decline.

Truman's Position.

The Spanish loan authorized by congress was part of the $36,000,000,000 general appropriations act which President Truman signed Sept. 6.

In commenting on the measure the president said that he did not regard the Spanish loan provision as a directive, "which would be unconstitutional." Instead, he regarded it as an authorization in addition to authority already in existence under which loans may be granted to foreign nations.

The president then went on to say:

"Spain is not, and has not been, foreclosed from borrowing money from this government. Money will be loaned to Spain whenever mutually advantageous arrangements can be made with respect to security terms of repayment, purposes for which the money is to be spent, and other appropriate factors, and whenever such loans will serve the interests of the United States in the conduct of foreign relations."

Lexington Woman Bound Over On Larceny Charge

She was bound over to the district court following a hearing in Phelps county court Tuesday. Bond was set at $1,000.

Similar charges against her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alma Powers, who gave her address as Republican City, were dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Mrs. Maxine Powers is charged with the theft of more than $400 in currency and checks from the Hallier store at Bertrand, Neb., last December.

Rev. Pietz To Denver Pastorate After Active Public Service Here

Rev. Emil T. Pietz, pastor of the Wesley chapel south of Lincoln for three years, has accepted a call to the Grand View Congregational church in Denver. He will assume his new duties Sept. 20.

Rev. and Mrs. Pietz came here from Seattle, Wash., where he was stationed with the army after serving as a chaplain on a transport ship. While in Lincoln, Rev. Pietz organized the community church south of Lincoln and the Federated Congregational and Methodist churches in Rokeby and Jamaica and Wesley chapel.

Rev. Mr. Pietz has served as chaplain of the American Legion post No. 3 in Lincoln for the past three years. He was also active in the Lincoln Ministerial association, served as vice president of the Lancaster Rural Ministers' association and as chairman of the Christian education committee of the Lincoln Association of the Congregational Conference.

Mrs. Pietz has been active in Sunday school and the woman's society of the church. She is a member of the Y.W.C.A. and until recently served as chaplain of the American Legion auxiliary.

Before entering the service, Mr. Pietz held a five-year pastorate at Racine, Wis., where he reorganized a community and bought a church, parsonage, and a Hammond organ. Mr. Pietz has also taught psychology and education at Parsons college, Fairfield, Ia., and Sioux Falls, S. D.

Rev. Pietz is a member of the National Society for the Study of Education, the American Sociological society and the Psychological Association of the Central States. His name has appeared in Who's Who of American Education and in the Who's Who of the Central States.

More than 70 members of the Trinity Chapel Family Co-op honored Rev. and Mrs. Pietz at a social Sept. 1. W. C. Robinson, vice president of the group, presented the pastor with a gift.

Iron Lung Sent From Falls City To Sioux City

An iron lung was dispatched from Falls City late Tuesday to the St. Joseph hospital in Sioux City, Ia., to help meet a shortage which had developed there, Clinton Belknap said Wednesday.

Belknap, east Nebraska representative for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, relayed the request from the hospital to Falls City and made arrangements for the transfer.

He said he had been informed by the Iowa representative of the Foundation that 14 patients are now in iron lungs in the treatment center at Iowa City, Ia., alone.

Belknap reported that at the present time, there are 13 polio patients in Nebraska depending upon mechanical respirators, four of whom are carry-overs from epidemics in previous years.

Vets Seek Shift VA Jurisdiction

ALLIANCE, Neb.— (AP) —District four of the Nebraska American Legion is seeking a shift in the handling of western Nebraska veterans affairs.

A resolution passed at the district convention Tuesday would put 11 Nebraska panhandle counties under the jurisdiction of the Cheyenne, Wyo., regional VA office.

Another resolution sets the time for annual meets as spring rather than in the fall as they have been previously.

The next district convention will be at Hemingford. Officers will be elected at that time.

Boys', Girls' County Plan May Get Trial In Germany

Cornhusker Boys' and Girls' County government may soon serve as a model for a similar organization in Germany.

Characterizing the Cornhusker County government as "a very interesting and commendable program in citizenship training," the U. S. department of state has submitted the plan to its officials in Germany for their consideration "in the light of local conditions and attitudes."

State department officials have been studying for several months the county government program, originated and sponsored by the Nebraska department of the American Legion and Auxiliary.

They have advised Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons, County government president, that the "plan appears as sound for Germany as for the United States—that a knowledge of local government procedures and actual exercise of local responsibilities can be an extremely effective device to stimulate civic interest."

The program originated in Nebraska three years ago when it was tried out in six counties. Last year 61 counties had it in operation.

It is anticipated every Nebraska county will participate in the program during the present school year.

A similar program was instituted in Tennessee last year and other states have it under study or in the process of organization.

Spotlight On Building To Be Dimmed

New, Bigger Factories Will Take More Material

By SAM DAWSON.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Home building may soon step out of its long stellar role in the nation's business boom as the new and bigger factory steals the construction spotlight.

Observers still expect this year to see a new high in the number of homes built. But the government is getting ready to discourage the boom by tightening curbs on mortgage credit. And increasing building costs are working toward the same end.

Even so the curbs are unlikely to keep 1950 from topping 1949's record of 1,025,100 homes started By the end of July 839,000 homes had been started this year, 54 per cent more than in the first seven months of 1949.

Business Expansion.

At the same time, business firms are sharply expanding their plans for spending on new plant and equipment. And whatever controls and allocations the federal government works out on building materials are likely to favor the expansion of industry at the expense of the starting of new homes.

Building an addition to the factory, however, isn't going to be as easy as just planning it. Shortages of some building materials—copper and steel, for example—are increasing. The boxcar shortage is bringing complaints from contractors who say they are having trouble getting lumber from the mills. And the labor department reports that skilled construction workers are hard to find in many cities.

The president's council of economic advisers reports that since May businessmen have raised their sights on plans to spend for new plant and equipment by about 13 per cent.

Tobey Is Winner In Hot Race

Voting In Seven States Returns Most Old Hands To November Election

(By The Associated Press)

Sen. Charles W. Tobey, self-styled liberal fighting one of the toughest battles of his political career, won nomination to a third term in New Hampshire's rough and tumble republican primary Tuesday.

The 70-year-old lawmaker squeezed by with a 1,127 vote margin over 34-year-old Wesley Powell, World war II veteran and former secretary to Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.).

Powell campaigned on the theme that Tobey was a "Truman republican" and "too liberal." He said he would ask for a recount. The unofficial tally was: Tobey 39,003, Powell 37,876.

Other Elections.

States voting, besides New Hampshire, were Arizona, Colorado, Michigan, Minnesota, Vermont and Washington. Involved were four other senate seats, 41 house memberships and six governorships.

ARIZONA—Sen. Carl Hayden and other members of the democratic congressional delegation were renominated. Their republican foes in the general election had no primary opposition. A woman, former state auditor, Ana Frohmiller, appeared to have won the democratic nomination for governor. The republican candidate was unopposed.

Millikin Renominated.

COLORADO—Sen. Eugene D. Millikin was renominated by republicans without a contest. The democratic nominee is Rep. John A. Carroll, also chosen without opposition. Former Gov. Ralph L. Carr was picked by republicans as their gubernatorial candidate to oppose Gov. Walter W. Johnson, democrat, in November.

VERMONT—Winston L. Prouty, 44-year-old lumber dealer making his first bid for a statewide office, won the republican nomination to the state's only seat in the U. S. house of representatives. In traditionally republican Vermont, he is virtually assured of taking the place of Rep. Charles A. Plumley, republican, who is retiring. Sen. George D. Aiken, republican was unopposed for renomination.

50,000 Vote Lead.

MICHIGAN—Republicans picked former Gov. Harry F. Kelly as their candidate to oppose democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams in the November election. Kelly led his closest opponent in the five-way GOP primary by almost 50,000 votes in incomplete returns.

MINNESOTA—Republican Gov. Luther Youngdahl swamped four little known opponents to gain the nomination for another term. Harry H. Peterson, former state Supreme court justice, led a six-man race for the democratic-farmer-labor nomination for governor.

WASHINGTON—W. Walter Williams, 49-year-old Seattle businessman, led two other candidates for the republican nomination to the senate. Democratic Sen. Warren G. Magnuson was unopposed.

ANNEXING DELAYED.

OMAHA—(AP)—Action on the question of annexing east Omaha will not be taken before January 1, the city council decided Tuesday. The delay followed a recommendation by schools Superintendent Harry Burke that the question should be considered by the state legislature, the city council and the board of education next January.

13 Towns Visited By Lincoln Sowers On First Day Of Tour

ELGIN, Neb.—Only the weather presented a "chilly" greeting to the traveling Lincoln Sowers during their two-day tour of towns in this section of the state.

Good sized crowds, plus bands, turned out in most of the 13 communities visited by the Sowers Tuesday. Wednesday the goodwill organization of the Lincoln chamber of commerce made stops at 12 more towns.

Last night the Sowers were guests of the Elgin Commercial club at a dinner served at the Legion club here. Phil Johnson, member of the Sowers group, presided. Keith Shoemaker, president of the Elgin Commercial club, extended greetings.

"An organization that an individual is identified with depends on an individual for its reputation," Ray Ramsay, Lincoln Sower, told the gathering. "Leadership must be active to be effective."

The Sowers were housed in Elgin homes Tuesday night and embarked early Wednesday for visits to Burwell, Taylor, Sargent, Arcadia, Ord (lunch), North Loup, Scotia, Greeley, Wolbach, Fullerton, and Osceola (dinner).

Upon their arrival in Elgin Tuesday afternoon, the Sowers were met on the edge of the city by two fire trucks, Mayor Fred Tupa and Ed Schultz, former Elgin resident now a member of the Sowers. The group escorted the Lincolnites into Elgin where a crowd of residents plus the high school band were on hand.

Earlier Tuesday afternoon the Sowers made the following stops:

Spalding — Approximately 200 residents turned out together with the high school band. The weather cleared just as the Sowers arrived.

Bartlett—Good turnout despite drizzly weather.

Cedar Rapids—Near 150 residents on hand to greet Sowers in the rain.

St. Edward — Lawrence Scott, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, together with school children and local citizens met the Sowers. Schools were dismissed.

Albion—The 50-piece uniformed band was on hand under the direction of Ivan C. Caldwell. Majorettes are Barbara Medlin, Janet Smith, Beverly Brown, Norma Quillen and Marlyn Hersay. Bob Slotree, secretary of the chamber of commerce, also officially greeted the Sowers.

Newman Grove—This was the Tuesday lunch stop for the Sowers. The meal was prepared by the P.T.A. women at the high school auditorium. H. E. Sanderson, president of the Newman Grove chamber, extended greetings. Bob Stephens and Lois Srb of Lincoln provided entertainment.

Lindsay — Postmaster A. P. Peterson officially greeted the Sowers. Some 200 residents were also on hand. The Holy Family Glee club under the direction of Sister Regina Delores and Sister Mary Paschal presented several numbers.

One Man's Opinion

The World Congress of Criminology is in session in Paris this week . . . 800 delegates shook hands with their gloves on and left no fingerprints.

Then they whipped out their disguises and set to work trailing each other.

KIERMAN

They will hear papers by biologists, psychiatrists, psychologists, anthropologists and psychoanalysts if their brief cases aren't lifted.

One anthropologist believes our criminal tendencies started with our descent from the apes . . . up until then the worst we had done was snitch a few bananas.

Now it's too late to turn back . . . civilization has advanced to a point where the apes wouldn't have us.

In fact I hear Apes United held a meeting last week and voted to assess every member two coconuts to double-bar their cages against human aggression.

But today everything seems to have criminal overtones . . . I heard two fellows talking about the proposed new tax rate and one said: "It's a crime" The other said: "Crime? It's murder!"

Fremont Honoring Own King George

FREMONT, Neb.—(AP)—King George of Fremont—no relation to King George of England—was the object of a city-wide observance Wednesday.

This was George Riley day in honor of the 13-year-old Fremont boy selected as 1950 king of national kids day.

The king himself wasn't due to get in on the festivities until Wednesday night. He and his queen, Joan Crawford, 13, of Hamilton, O., have been enjoying an expense-paid holiday in Hollywood. They are due to arrive in Omaha by plane at 8:35 tonight, and are to be escorted to Fremont by Omaha police and the Nebraska safety patrol. They will be taken to Moller field where they are scheduled to appear between innings of a baseball game highlighting the program staged in their honor.

The baseball game matches the Fremont Night Hawks with St. Patrick's of Omaha, CYO champions. A barbershop quartet will sing, the Fremont high school band will play and there will be stunts.

Proceeds from the ticket sales will go into the local Kiwanis club's fund for youth work. The Kiwanis organization sponsors the national kids day project.

More than 225 soldiers of the Seventh Cavalry were annihilated with General George A. Custer at the Battle of the Little Bighorn in 1876.

Kearney School Puzzle Remains Unsolved

Ruff Opens New Probe Of Problem

Favorable CAA Ruling Sought

State Supt. of Schools Otto Ruff was "making further inquiries into the exact nature of the problem on which the C.A.A. was asked to rule," Wednesday, in an effort to untangle the Kearney airport school puzzle.

Ruff said he was asking Kearney airport officials for a copy of the letter sent to the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Kansas City, in which the CAA was asked to rule on whether airport revenue could be used to pay tuition to the Kearney schools for children whose parents live on the airport.

A CAA official at Kansas City ruled that no money could be diverted from Kearney airport revenue to pay the children's tuition, because of an "understanding" that all the revenue was needed for airport maintenance and operation.

25 Children Involved.

State Supt. Ruff said Wednesday, however, that he hoped a favorable ruling might be obtained from the CAA through clarification of the problem.

The Kearney schools have denied admission to the 25 children living on the airport until tuition for them has been paid in advance. Although the airport is not in any school district, the children have been given "temporary" admission to the teachers college training school at Kearney.

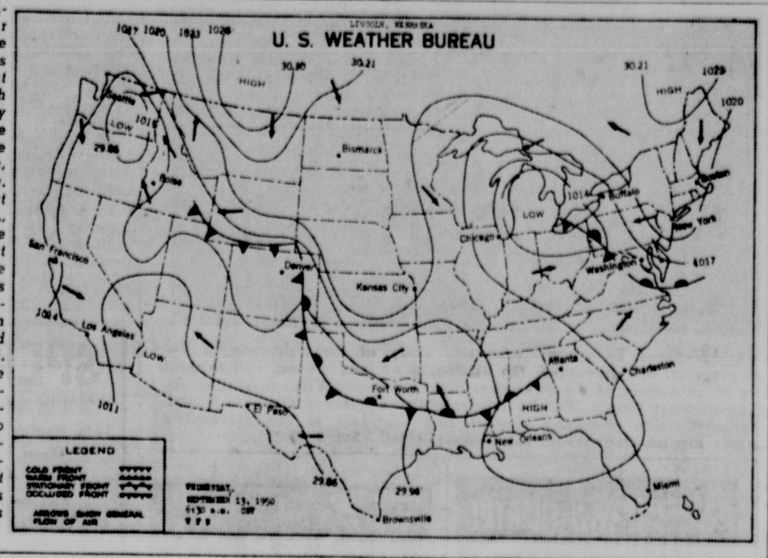

Gov. Val. Peterson, meanwhile, sent copies of an exchange of telegrams between himself and the CAA to Nebraska's congressmen, asking for an investigation of the CAA. The investigation hinged on whether or not the CAA authorized salaries for a Kearney airport manager and attorney said to be $12,000 and $10,000, respectively.

The state superintendent of schools said he was "definitely not" advising Buffalo county superintendent of schools to attach the airport at Kearney to adjoining rural school districts at this time.

A heavy instructional burden would be imposed on the rural schools, Ruff said, and the only help the school districts could expect would be from taxes collected on the personal property of persons and business firms using the Kearney airport.

And that financial help, Ruff added, could not be expected for at least two years if the airport is attached to existing rural school districts.

FROST IN DAKOTA: Cool air continued over the northern Rockies and the adjacent eastern slope, with temperatures early Wednesday in the 30s and 40s in the Dakotas, Montana, and Wyoming. Frost occurred at Huron, S. Dak., with temperature 33. The lowest temperatures were mostly in the 40s in Nebraska, reaching the low 50s in Kansas, Iowa, and northern Missouri. Light to moderate local showers occurred in the Rockies southward to Colorado, in western and central Nebraska, and light to heavy showers from Great Lakes to Atlantic states.

Fulltime AFL Organizer For State Sought

. . . By NFL President

OMAHA—(AP)—The president of the Nebraska Federation of Labor wants an American Federation of Labor organizer assigned fulltime to the state during the first five months of next year.

Addressing the annual convention of the NFL here Tuesday, President Gordon C. Preble explained that he will be forced to spend nearly all his time in the legislature in Lincoln.

Preble preceded his request for a fulltime organizer by stressing the need for more organizational work. "We still have a few international unions that do not realize Nebraska is in the United States," he declared.

Scholarship Planned.

Reviewing the year's activities, Preble reported that nearly one-half of the locals affiliated with the NFL in the past year were made up of public employes.

Eleven were locals of the American federation of state, county and municipal employes, he said. Three others belong to the American federation of government employes. Preble said also that one local has been reinstated and "three or four" have dropped out.

The NFL voted to establish a $500 scholarship for the high school student who writes the best essay on the subject of labor.

Delegates voted to send speakers to high schools to tell the story of the union movement.

"It would really do little good to offer the prize," explained John Lawler of Norfolk, chairman of the resolutions committee, "unless we can bring the message of labor to these future citizens.

New Wildcat Tests Mark Oil Activity

. . . In Sidney Area

SIDNEY, Neb.—(AP)—Two new wildcat tests are claiming the attention of oil observers in Cheyenne county this week.

H. P. McCauley's Anderson No. 1 in the west Sidney draw area, six miles west and two miles south of Sidney, was drilling below 1,940 feet Tuesday.

It is understood that a larger rig will be moved onto the location by Gebhart and Jones, Kansas drillers, to complete the hole. Gebhart and Jones drilled the successful oil producer, Seimers No. 1, for Frontier-Deep Rock on the Huntsman High.

Water Troubles Arise.

The other wildcat is Ohio's Jurgens No. 1, eight miles east and one south of Gurley, where drilling reached 1,600 feet Monday morning. Only other test made in that region to date is Dunbar's Jurgens No. 1 three miles south of the Ohio location.

Dunbar is now trying to complete its well for oil production but has run into a series of water troubles. Ohio's Jurgens well is on land belonging to John C. Jurgen's of Sidney; Dunbar's on land owned by Louis Jurgens of Gurley.

Other developments in this area over the week-end:

Ohio's Fender No. 1 was drilling at 6,472 feet Monday; Miller No. 2 was past the 3,100 foot mark; rigging up was under way at the Beyer No. 1, a new location two miles northwest of Sidney 990 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the west line.

Cores Promising.

The Texas company is continuing to core and test at its Miller No. 1 north of Lodgepole. Cores taken from the first sand showed promising saturation but drill stem tests recovered water.

Dunbar Drilling Co. has perforated twice at its Jurgens No. 1 east of Gurley but has been unable to squeeze off the water. Another perforation was planned Monday. Electric log of the hole has shown good promise of oil saturation if the water can be closed off.

Nebraska Drillers Inc. plugged the Lohr No. 1 six miles west and four north of Sidney last week and now are reported negotiating for another drilling location in Cheyenne county.

In other exploration areas outside the county, British-American Oil Co. is running pipe at its Linde No. 1 in Logan county Colo. and will shut it in as a potential gas well. The same procedure probably will be taken with B-A's Green No. 1 in Logan county unless oil production can be increased by tests this week.

The Green No. 1 has been flowing about 11 barrels of oil per day. B-A's Worth No. 1 in Morrill county, Nebraska, 12 miles west and three north of Dalton, probably will be abandoned today. The well ran high structurally but the sandstone formations were very shallow, the company's Sidney office said.

Jim Speake's Bosley No. 2 in Deuel county, Nebraska has been completed as a gas well and the Ideal Drilling Co. has moved into location for the Trollstrup No. 1 two miles south of the Bosley. Surface casing was set over the week end.

Judge Dismisses Omaha Bingo Case

OMAHA— (AP) —An Omaha District court judge has dismissed a case officially recognizing for perhaps the first time in Douglas county courts that bingo is illegal.

Judge Arthur C. Thomsen held there were no grounds in a suit against Mrs. Sarah Salleng because the case involved "illegal transactions"—bingo games.

The case was filed by members of the Mothers club of Omaha against Mrs. Salleng, former club president. The dispute had arisen when several members demanded an accounting of $8,000 taken in at bingo parties in 1947 during Mrs. Salleng's presidency.

Judge Thomsen's ruling yesterday sustained demurrers filed by attorneys for Mrs. Salleng.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figure gives you.

Detroit Seesaws Back Into American Lead

Trip Senators, 3-2; Yanks Fall To Cleveland In Ninth

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

WITH big Luke Easter as the ringleader, the smarting Cleveland Indians are moving back into the American league pennant race in the role of "spoilers."

Knocked out of contention and blasted by their bosses, the Indians are out to redeem themselves at the expense of the three remaining contenders — Boston, New York and Detroit.

They began to reap revenge Tuesday night by defeating the New York Yankees, 8-7, on a three-run homer by Easter in the ninth inning.

The defeat sent the Yankees into second place, a half game back of the Detroit Tigers who scored a 3-2 afternoon triumph over the Washington Senators.

Cleveland has one more game with the Yanks, six with the Tigers and two with the third-place Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox, still moving relentlessly forward, climbed within a game of the lead by edging the Chicago White Sox, 2-1.

Home runs in the first two innings by Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Yogi Berra shot the Yanks off to a 6-0 lead in a rain-soaked game.

Early Wynn was the victim of the Yankee bombardment but after that the world champions were effectively checked by Dick Weik, Sid Sam Zoldak and Steve Gromek.

Homers by Larry Doby and Easter shaved the deficit to 6-4 by the fifth.

Allie Reynolds, who had allowed only four hits, blew up in the ninth and walked two batters. He was hurriedly lifted for Tom Ferrick. Bob Kennedy greeted Ferrick with a run-scoring double. Doby struck out but Easter then slammed Ferrick's first pitch over the right-field fence to break up the game.

The Tigers had rough sledding before squashing the Senators. Old Diz Trout went all the way for the Bengals and permitted eight hits while his mates collected only five off Gene Bearden and Mickey Harris.

Detroit clipped Bearden for two runs in the third on a walk and doubles by George Kell and Vic Wertz. Wertz homered for the winning run in the fifth. The Senators scored in the sixth and added their final run in the eighth on a homer by Ed Stewart.

NU Frosh Hold First Scrimmage

. . . Gallagher Shines

Ike Hanscom's University of Nebraska freshmen gridders sailed through their first scrimmage of the year Tuesday afternoon.

Four teams—two red and two white—banged heads and exchanged deadly body blows for over an hour as the Husker frosh prepped for the Sept. 23 contest with the Scarlet and Cream varsity.

Two Omaha flashes were handling the signal-calling. Ray Novak, former Tech great, and Tom Carodine, Boys Town alumnus, were under the pivot and operated well.

Cliff Hopp, Hastings transfer from Georgia and brother of Wally, Harry and Johnny, deluxe athletes, reeled off several nice runs.

Harold Gallagher, 188 pound halfback from Hot Springs S. D., is a lanky lad, measuring six foot, two inches in height, and has demonstrated his ability to mimic Red Grange on several occasions. When the freshman candidate for a halfback spot lugs the ball, the defense can't afford any miscues. He runs hard and with a slight indication of a gallup.

Another runner of first class ability, that showed well in Tuesday's tussle, is Omaha Holy Name's Bobby Decker. The 163 pound tailback churned for several lengthy gains during the fray.

Line play was rough and aggressive, with a few boys showing sparks of greatness.

Charlie Gasson, 210 pound Omaha guard candidate and transfer letterman from the University of Washington, provided the incentive for some fine line play. Others showing up well in the melee were Vince Galvin, Sioux Falls, S. D.; John Machisic, Turtle Creek, Pa.; and Marvin Anderson, Shenandoah, Ia. guard.

Two more enrollees enlisted in the ranks of the frosh Tuesday. They were Steve McGill, 6-4, 208 pound tackle from Holy Name and a younger brother of Husker varsity pivotman Joe and George Moran, 170 pound Chicago, Ill., halfback.

Five more players checked in their equipment. They are Jim Danze, Omaha; Richard Hartnett, Sioux City, Ia.; LaVerne Pensick, Columbus; Bert Sample, Madison, S. D., and Charles Armstrong, Cedaredge, Colo.

The Northeast Rockets play host to Beatrice at Magee Stadium Friday night. Kick off time being 8 o'clock.

Tutor Galloway called for a night session Tuesday to get in a few last minute licks on polishing offense and improving the aerial game. A short scrimmage between the starting eleven and the reserves was scheduled to complete the fray.

FIRST ELEVEN.

Galloway has indicated that his starting unit would probably consist of Dick Grell and Paul Fredstrom at the end posts, Ron Edwards and Lewis Swift at tackle and Jim Jacobs and Pat Milton at the guard berths. Pivot man will be 170-pound Walt Garner, making his varsity debut.

In the backfield, the Rocket gridmaster has four returning vets slated for opening assignments. Last season's leading scorer, Jim Cederdahl, will team with either Bob Starr or Gene Thompson at the halfback posts.

The hefty Rockets boast a backfield average of 172 pounds behind a forward wall averaging 183. Beatrice won't carry as much beef in their starting unit, with their line and backfield both averaging 168 pounds.

The Northeast crew are out to avenge a 7-0 defeat handed them last year at Beatrice. This being their only loss in nine starts.

Indians, D. M. Annex Early Playoff Leads

(By the Associated Press)

Des Moines and Wichita, who trailed in third and fourth places in the Western league pennant early leads in the league playoffs.

Wichita beat Omaha, 6 to 4, at Wichita Tuesday night, while at Sioux City Des Moines was taking the Soos 9-7.

Both the winners got the job done at the last minute by coming from behind with three runs in the ninth.

As the bottom of the ninth got under way at Wichita, pitcher Lefty O'Donnell hit a double for the trailing Indians and was sacrificed to third.

At that point, starter Bob Clear gave way to Don Stephens. The young Cardinal lefthander got a chance for just three pitches.

The first was a ball to George Elder. The second one Elder smacked for a single that scored O'Donnell. And the third one Bob Race, were off Wednesday to Caffery walloped over the right field wall for a homer that ended the ball game.

The home run was Caffery's second in two trips to the plate. In the seventh, he had put Wichita back in the game with a roundtripper with the bases empty.

At Sioux City, a seventh inning solo homer by Don Swartz also put Des Moines within shooting distance of victory. The Bruins had the help of two walks in the ninth and drummed up four hits to send home the three pay-off runs.

The Bruins and the Soos play one more game of the best-of-five series at Sioux City before moving on to Des Moines. The Indians and Cardinals, chased out of Wichita by a rodeo, will play the rest of their series in Omaha.

CURTIS, Neb.—We can explain that soft, whirling sound you heard Monday night. It was John Barrymore and Walter Huston twirling in their diggings.

For their status as immortal thespians suffered serious challenge as the University of Nebraska sophomores unfolded their annual play before a howling gallery.

Charley Foo-Good

Producer Nick Adduci accepted the praise modestly.

"It was rather good," said the junior fullback from Chicago, adding, "considering what I had to work with."

You would have difficulty choosing a particular star in the Adduci epic. It was a team production.

The show had to be a success. There had been talk of a "Curtis Special" haircut for Adduci if his thespians flopped.

John Sinclair, 160-pound halfback from Los Angeles, proved himself an able showman as master of ceremonies. Between the frequent scenes, he reeled off jokes with all the abandon of a poor man's Bob Hope.

Halfback Jim Levendusky, South Greensboro, Pa., opened the program with a testimony for Hadacol, delivered in true Georgia cracker dialogue.

The Bear "and five little cubs" delivered a snappy chorus on "I Used To Work In Chicago." And The Bear delivered the monologue for the climax skit of the evening, a pantomime entitled "And The Lamp Went Out."

Featuring Ted Connor, 220-pound tackle from Hastings, as the heroine, "The Lamp" was melodrama to the last tear.

Connor, sort of a bulkhead Bette Davis, was pursued by two lovers, Hero Buster Lehman, the wee 160-pound quarterback from El Paso, Tex., and Villain Don Boll, huge 250-pound tackle from Scribner.

Justice and Lehman finally triumphed and Lehman was carried off the stage by the husky heroine.

One of the comedy highlights was a skit on "Charley Foogood, The Wonder Muscle Course," a parody on the Huskers' All-Big Seven tackle.

Slim Farley Pickering, wafer-thin halfback from Junction City, Kas., was shown in earlier stages before he took the Foogood success course. He was badly bullied.

After the course, Pickering came back in the guise of the mammoth Boll and licked every bully in sight.

"SONGS And Fast Chatter, Very Fast," by Jack Carroll, McCook halfback, drew heavy applause.

Coach Bill Glassford was mimicked by Don Hopkins, Omaha guard, right down to his blue shorts. George Prochaska, Ulysses end, represented End Coach Marvin Franklin, and Tom Harper, Omaha tackle, played the part of Line Coach Ralph Fife right down to a pillow stuffed in seat.

A special attraction was a skit by Halfback Stan Gerlach of Lincoln, representing an expectant mother, and Halfback Jim Sommers, another ex-Link gridder, the pater.

All in all, it was hilarious entertainment. Mr. Adduci's scalp was not even threatened.

Wesleyan Gridders Prepare

Open Season With Omaha U. Saturday

Offensive and defensive timing were stressed Tuesday, as Nebraska Wesleyan coach Roy B. Robertson prepared his 1950 grid stalwarts for the season's opening fling with Omaha U. Saturday night.

Coming to Wesleyan for the first time this season, Robertson has employed the two platoon system in an attempt to single out his most adept performers more readily.

Another new feature for Plainsmen grid followers will be the use of the "T" formation. This is the first time in recent years that it will be adhered to completely; formerly, the old single wing was mastered.

It will be a much younger and more aggressive team taking the field than in recent years when returning war veterans dominated the squad.

One man was added to the squad and three lost during the week-end's training. Cliff Shaffer, 218 pound Junior tackle from Columbus, reported Monday and has been added to the defensive roster.

Number two quarterback Bill Bowmaster, freshman from Northeast, suffered a leg injury during Saturday's scrimmage, which will keep him out of the opening contest.

Don Harrington, two year senior letterman received a cleat gash in the head but is expected to be ready for the Indians. Dave Williams, freshman from Springfield, Missouri, has been placed on the doubtful list, pending a slow healing leg injury.

Working with the offensive squad Tuesday and probable starters were Paul Obermeyer, center; Max Kellough and Bob Becker, guards; Milton Schmidt and Bob Gentry, tackles, and Harold Gustafson and Gaston, ends.

Making up the defensive unit were Marvin Stoll and Kropp, ends; Bob Thurston and Lewis Walker, tackles; Bob Starkel and Howard DuBois, guards.

Game Commission Book Cites Whooping Crane

The whooping crane — only bird in North America which is almost as tall as man—is featured in the Fall issue of "Outdoor Nebraska," Game Commission's quarterly magazine available for release on Oct. 1.

HUSKY HUSKER—Don Boll, 250-pound ex-marine from Scribner, will add a sizable chunk of beef to the Nebraska forward wall this season. A sophomore, Boll has been playing a defensive guard position during the Curtis drills. (Staff Photo.)

Curtis Windup Wednesday

Huskers, Despite Rain, Work Over Blocking, Pass Defense

By NORRIS ANDERSON
(Sports Editor, The Star)

CURTIS, Neb.—A steady downpour of cold, wet rain Tuesday failed to stop the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers from sloshing through two practice sessions.

Forgetting the first inclement weather since the Curtis camp was launched 13 days ago, the Huskers worked exclusively on fundamentals with heavy stress on pass defense, blocking and punt returns.

'Sabotage' In Hog Industry Discounted

State Officials Say Losses Been Watched For Past Two Years

Suspicions of sabotage of the swine industry voiced by Congressman Karl Stefan, who announced that he would have the FBI investigate, were discounted by state officials Wednesday. They announced that study of the losses of hogs after vaccination have been closely watched for the past two years.

Dr. E. P. Anderson, chief of the Nebraska bureau of animal industry, recalled that heavy losses in Iowa a couple of years ago resulted in a conference of federal veterinarians in Omaha.

Warnings were issued by Dr. Anderson in June that field reports showed that where the dose of serum was increased up to 50 per cent above standard dosage the losses were slight. He recommended to sales barns and veterinarians that dosages be increased.

Increased Dosages.

"We have been having less trouble with hogs sold in sales barns and given increased dosages of vaccine than ever before," Dr. Anderson said. "However, we have been alert to the danger and two field men have been kept in the Norfolk area, together with two federal inspectors, watching carefully vaccination results."

Dr. Anderson was loud in his praise of Nebraska manufacturers of serum and virus. "They voluntarily have rechecked their products for potency and contamination after it was federally approved," he said.

Veterinarians at Plainview, O'Neill, Wisner, Newcastle and Osmond have reported that, through giving the increased dosages recommended, losses of hogs they vaccinated have been no more than normal losses, the state veterinarian said.

Rufus M. Howard, director of agriculture, said that investigations revealed that some of the hog losses in northeast Nebraska were caused by an unidentified virus that contaminated the virus used. He said that farmers have only reported the loss of about 2,000 hogs this year.

Star Praised.

Virus 1134 has been found to be the one containing the variant virus that has caused most of the hog losses.

One Iowa serum manufacturer, whose product was found to contain the unidentified virus, voluntarily suspended operations, Dr. Anderson said. Much of the virus used in northeast Nebraska where the losses were the heaviest was said to have come from this company.

Some of the Nebraska companies in order to assure better products have followed recommendations of the state department of agriculture and are installing new equipment, it was revealed.

For heavier hogs, the increased dosage recommended increased the cost of vaccinating each animal by about 25 cents, Dr. Anderson said.

Praise was given The Lincoln Star by Dr. Anderson for articles on the danger to hogs if vaccination dosages were not increased. This information to farmers, he said, probably aided in keeping down losses in this section of the state.

Circus Employe To Be Returned In Knifing Case

A fugitive, sought in the knifing of a fellow circus worker in Lincoln Monday, was arrested Tuesday by St. Joseph, Mo., police. When picked up the suspect was wearing a woman's hat, the Associated Press reported.

Carter Sanders, a Ringling Brothers circus train porter, was arrested in the Burlington rail yards in St. Joseph where he had followed the circus.

Arresting officers said that they noticed a pile of newspapers on a flat car. Sanders emerged from the pile of refuse, wearing a woman's hat, when the officers tossed a chunk of coal on his hideout.

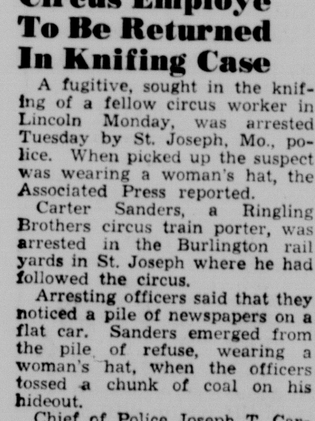

Chief of Police Joseph T. Carroll said Wednesday that Burlington detectives had agreed to bring the porter, who joined the circus in Indianapolis Aug. 12, back to Lincoln.

Edward C. Burke, captain of St. Joseph detectives, said Sanders has admitted the stabbing and has waived extradition.

A complaint, charging Sanders with intent to inflict great bodily harm, has been filed in Municipal court.

Louis Cecil Smith, 27, also a circus employe was stabbed in the abdomen and the arms Monday night on the vestibule of a railroad car standing in the Burlington yards at Fifth and J strerets. He underwent surgery at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Other circus employes told Lincoln police that they had seen Smith and Sanders argue and scuffle over a dice game. They both left the care, the others said, and Smith was found seriously wounded a few moments later.

Tvrz Hearing Thursday In Slaying Case

Trial May Come In October Term

FRIEND, Neb.—(AP)—Clarence Tvrz of Wilber, charged with shooting his employer and the employer's wife to death in a Wilber tavern last April, will appear in District court for a preliminary hearing Thursday.

Tvrz has been charged with first degree murder in two counts in connection with the deaths April 19 of Ivan McElroy of Wilber, 49-year-old electrical contractor, and his wife.

They were slain as they sat in the Fox Hole tavern. County Attorney Joseph Ach labeled it a "love shooting" and said Tvrz had "been seeing" Mrs. McElroy.

Tvrz pleaded innocent to the murder charges in County court and was bound over to District court.

His case is expected to come up for trial at the October term of court, opening Oct. 2. Jury cases are scheduled to start Oct. 9.

Tvrz has been held in the state penitentiary in Lincoln since the shootings.

A coroner's jury, after an inquest, held that Tvrz "feloniously, purposely and deliberately" shot the couple.

Off-Sale Beer License Sought At 3859 South

George Geier, jr., filed an application with the city clerk Wednesday asking for an off-sale beer license at 3859 South street.

He states, "In view of the increasing number of people moving out in the east and south directions, we feel this convenience would be greatly appreciated by these people."

The off-sale store would be operated jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Geier, according to the application.

The application states that the store could be operated without further taxing the police force.

Geier says, "I feel the best police force are the people living in this vicinity."

The city council, during the past few years, has not favored licenses for beer sales beyond areas regularly policed.

County Attorney To Re-Convene Kilzer Inquest

The inquest into the auto accident deaths of a Raymond farmer and his 9-year-old daughter will be continued Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the county attorney's office in the courthouse.

County Attorney Frederick H. Wagener said the wife of the dead man, Edgar L. Kilzer, will be able to testify at his office, but the six-man coroner's jury would probably have to go to the hospital to get testimony from Frank Chaney, 23, Fairfax, Mo.

Chaney was the driver of the semi-truck that smashed into the Kilzer car at a county road intersection a half mile east of Raymond, Sept. 2.

At the first part of the inquest, held a week ago, two state safety patrolmen, Ray Syslo and I. E. Minary, together with Deputy County Steinacher, testified that Chaney had stated he ran to a stop sign. The sign was protecting the east-west traffic on the road.

Wheat Slips; Corn Mixed

CHICAGO—(AP)—Buyers stayed away from the grain market today and as a result all cereals rang up fair-sized losses.

Soybeans, down more than 3 cents at times, and wheat, off around 2 cents at one time, bore the brunt of the selling. It wasn't very heavy selling, however. It simply caused more of a dent than usual in the price structure because of the limited demand.

Wheat closed 1¼@1½c lower, September, $2.21¾, corn was 1¼c lower to ⅛c higher, September, $1.55¼, oats were ⅛@½c lower, September, 70⅝c, rye was 1⅜ to 2 cents lower, September, $1.39½; soybeans were 2 to 2½c lower, November, $2.46@2.46¾, and lard was unchanged to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, September, $14.70.
